SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U. S. paratroopers launched a big new operation on the fringe of the Viet Cong's "D" zone today and used nonlethal tear gas.

No further details were immediately available on the gas attack, but the "spokesman" said American troops had made significant contact with the Viet Cong.

Field commanders were authorized to use nonlethal gas if it was deemed necessary. The object was to flush out the Viet Cong without wounding or killing noncombatants.

Thousands of American troops combed a densely jungled area about 30 miles north of Saigon. Australian forces supported the operation.

B-52 bombers from Guam hammered the area twice before the U.S. ground offensive. The paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade landed by helicopter and moved into the Viet Cong area.

The spokesman gave no details on the fighting, but it was alleged to have been heavy.

A personnel carrier hit a Viet Cong mine and overturned. Casualties were reported moderate.

The Americans also drew fire as the convoy moved deeper into guerrilla territory.

U.S. spotters plane circling the area following the B-52 raids reported heavy fire, but there was no indication that any of the planes were shot down.

The operation was taking place in the same area where U.S. troops of the 173rd Airborne Brigade fought a bitter battle in 1964.

The longest operation was reported on page 2, Col. 8.

Situation in Viet Nam Said Stabilized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara believes the situation in Viet Nam has stabilized since the United States began funneling large numbers of U.S. troops into the war, it became known today.

However, he is not yet ready to join those who say the tide has turned and that the anti-Communist side is winning.

About the most optimistic he has made is that 25 Army Air Force, Marine and Navy forces have made considerable achievements and that the Communist Viet Cong have failed in their efforts to cut the morale of the South Vietnamese troops.

He is best described as remaining cautiously optimistic.

It is known that McNamara believes it best that the gains made be overemphasized because much hard fighting lies ahead.

He considers it important to remember that the Communists still control large parts of South Viet Nam, that they continue to impose taxes and to draft young men from the population—and that they still have the ability to read and other communications linking Viet Nam cities and towns.

King Emerges in Control of Rights Drive

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Martin Luther King Jr., who had his worst setback three days in Georgia, emerged today in control of the civil rights drive in this small town.

A power struggle with local implications.

Small groups of Negroes tried again in either board meetings with white children block the vehicles today.

State troopers thwarted an attempt. Four Negroes lay on the street but were freed quickly.

Teacher group tried to run roughshod over lines and one Negro was bowled over but he was twice as many troopers on as usual because those who had been on duty for about a week were being replaced.

A joint communique announcing the collapse said simply: "Despite intensive discussion no means have been found of reconciling the opposing views."

"No further meeting has been arranged."

The statement was issued after Prime Ministers Harold Wilson of Britain and Ian Smith of Rhodesia had tried for the second successive day to find some basis of compromise.

Consolidation Plan Defeated in County

Proposals on consolidation of Kimberly, Hansen and Murtaugh school districts and the assumption of the present bonded indebtedness of all three districts were defeated Thursday by Murtaugh district voters. Each district had to approve the proposals, the consolidation by a simple majority and the bonded indebtedness by a two-thirds majority, for the plan to be put into operation. Murtaugh voters turned down both proposals, the consolidation by a very slim margin of 70 for and 73 against, and the indebtedness by a vote of 47 for and 60 against. Cassia County residents in the joint district voted 4 yes to 2 no on both the indebtedness and consolidation proposals.

Both Kimberly and Hansen voters cast ballots overwhelmingly in favor of the consolidation proposal. Kimberly registered 179 yes votes and 114 no votes, while Hansen came out somewhat stronger in favor of the proposal with 150 voters favoring consolidation and 66 opposing it.

Both precincts voted in favor of the bonded indebtedness assumption, but not strongly enough to achieve a two-thirds majority. Kimberly voted 138 in favor of the proposal and 126 against it, while Hansen registered 106 yes votes and 60 no votes.

A similar proposal was defeated about three years ago. Kimberly School Board Clerk M. W. Craig said Thursday night "It is obvious something will have to be done, at least in Kimberly, where junior high school facilities are going to become a real problem in the next few years."

If the proposals had won voter approval a plan approved by the State Board of Education would have come into existence July 1, 1968.

The plan, submitted to the state board by school trustees in the three districts, called for grades one through eight to be maintained at each school and a new high school built in the vicinity of Hansen.

William C. Barnard, superintendent of the Hansen school system expressed, as an educator, his disappointment in the proposal's defeat.

"In order to improve education it would have been the wise thing to do," he said.

The bonded indebtedness of each school district as of July 1, 1965, is Kimberly No. 415, $36,000; Hansen No. 415, $56,000; and Murtaugh Joint School District No. 418, $260,000.

Each district voted at the high schools. Cassia county residents in Joint District No. 418 voted at the Truman-Blei residence.

Talks on Future Of Colony Fail

LONDON (AP) — Top level British-Rhodesian talks to settle the future of the white-ruled colony broke down Friday night, posing the threat of a Rhodesian grab for independence.

A joint communique announcing the collapse said simply: "Despite intensive discussion no means have been found of reconciling the opposing views."

"No further meeting has been arranged."

The statement was issued after Prime Ministers Harold Wilson of Britain and Ian Smith of Rhodesia had tried for the second successive day to find some basis of compromise.

Accreditation Team Visits College Here

A university accreditation team was in Twin Falls Friday to make a preliminary check of academic courses at College of Southern Idaho. Members of the team from University of Idaho are Dr. Boyd A. Martin, professor of political science and dean of letters and science; Dr. Harry C. Harmsworth, professor and chairman of sociology and anthropology; Dr. Elmer K. Raunio, professor and chairman of chemistry, and Dr. Floyd C. Tolleson Jr., acting head of humanities and chairman of English. The other member of the team is Dr. Donald Orlich, associate professor of education at Idaho State University.

Dr. Martin, chairman of the accreditation team, said the purpose of the team's visit to the College of Southern Idaho was to make a preliminary check of the courses for accreditation.

He said accreditation is not granted to the institution itself, only the courses are accredited.

After the team has evaluated the courses from the preliminary check, the team will send recommendations to the college on anything that should be changed or strengthened.

These points will be checked again when the courses are to be accredited by the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher School accreditation team.

Dr. Martin said his team will visit the college again to accredit courses at the end of the semester.

Dr. Martin said the Northwest Association will evaluate the college sometime next spring for membership in the association. He said Dr. James Taylor, college president, has applied for membership.

All five members of the accreditation team Friday said they were "impressed with the great progress the college has made in such a short time."

Friday afternoon the accreditation team spoke to college instructors. The college facilities were toured by team members and Dr. Taylor Friday morning.

N.Y. Chief States Views On Top Issue

BOISE (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller said Thursday he believes foreign policy will be the top issue in the 1968 presidential campaign.

The New York Republican, however, said he was in agreement with President Johnson's Viet Nam policy.

Rockefeller arrived here Thursday for two speaking engagements at the College of Idaho, a Presbyterian Church school of some 800 students about 25 miles west of here.

He accepted an honorary doctor's degree Thursday night and was to address a student-faculty convocation today before returning to New York.

Rockefeller, in a brief press conference at Boise Airport after his arrival, also said he is gratified that Republican congressional leaders have spoken out against right wing extremists.

He said he believed pressure in their home districts forced Sen. Thurston Morton, R-Ky., Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois and House Minority Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan to call for expulsion of the John Birch Society from the GOP.

Jury Favors Defendants In Civil Suit

GOODING — A district court jury Friday morning returned a verdict in favor of the defendants in a damage suit brought by a Twin Falls couple over the death of their son in an auto accident four years ago.

The jury ruled in favor of David Cantrell and his father, Homer Cantrell, both Gooding. The younger Cantrell was the driver of a 1955 Mercury to which Larry Oschner was clinging when the car sideswiped a parked 1955 Willys stationwagon in the 200 block of 2nd Ave. W. in Twin Falls on July 8, 1961.

"The Oschner youth was killed and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oschner, Twin Falls, were seeking $50,000 general damages plus cost of burial."

Vernon K. Smith, Boise, is attorney for the Oschners. The Cantrells were represented by Philip Becker, Gooding, assisted by John Doerr, Twin Falls.

"The case opened Tuesday in the Gooding county courthouse before Judge Charles Scoggins."

Johnson Is Doing Well, Operation Termed "Success"

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson had his gall bladder operation today — pronounced "routine" in performance and a "complete success" in outcome. Three hours later an aide reported Johnson was "doing well" and in his opinion able to make any presidential decisions that might be necessary. The estimate of the President's capability came from press secretary Bill D. Moyers. He was not

Possibility of Gas War in T.F. Lessens

Possibility of a gas war may have lessened Friday after an independent distributor reported selling gasoline at regular prices after cutting prices a month ago.

A Twin Falls Co-op Supply spokesman said pump prices for regular gasoline have been raised to regular prices. He said the service station had been told by Pacific Cooperatives, of which the local station is a member, to raise the prices.

The spokesman added that he did not know why the prices were to be raised back to normal.

A month ago Twin Falls Co-op Supply cut regular gasoline prices from 33.9 to 29.5 cents per gallon and cut regular gasoline from 38.9 to 35.5 cents a gallon, because several oil companies had been selling gas to farmers at a lower rate than they sell to other customers.

Two Twin Falls independent distributors continued to sell regular gasoline at 28.9 cents a gallon. They are Fairless Farm Service Station and Don's Petroleum Gas for Less.

A spokesman at the Stinker Station said his prices were down because the other independent distributors' prices were down. Stinker's prices were cut two days ago.

Lewis Stiles, manager of Pieper's station in Twin Falls, said his prices were down because of competition. He said if other companies lower gasoline prices more than his, he will lower his again. He said his prices had been cut for two weeks.

Ben W. Jacobs, manager of Standard Stations, Inc., said none of the major oil companies have cut gasoline prices.

Tass Reports Lunar Probe Crash-Lands

MOSCOW (AP) — The unnamed Soviet satellite Luna 7 hit the moon early today and Tass indicated it was a crash landing.

It was the third unsuccessful Russian attempt in six months to make history by first soft landing on the moon.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, announced that "most operations necessary for a soft landing were fulfilled during the approach to the moon."

But it added that "some operations were not carried out in accordance with the program and needed additional development."

The Tass announcement was the first official indication that Luna 7 had attempted a soft landing. It was a local time (5:08 p.m. EST Thursday). The landing was on schedule.

But the Russians waited more than 13 hours to announce it, indicating that the landing had been unsuccessful.

Humphrey Is Standby Chief Executive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, saying he was being "kept fully informed" on the condition of President Johnson, was a standby chief executive.

Humphrey left his suburban Maryland home at 8:45 a.m. after receiving the usual morning briefing and speaking by telephone to White House news secretary Bill D. Moyers.

Moyers told Humphrey that Johnson was in good spirits before he was wheeled into the operating room at Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Humphrey was barely noticed by passersby as his limousine, with a Secret Service car trailing, used a back route from the Maryland suburbs into the capital.

He then disappeared into the vast ornate executive office building across a narrow street from the White House.

Before leaving his home, Humphrey told newsmen "I'm just going down to the office."

Humphrey said he intended "to stay close to the executive office today" and that he was being kept informed of developments at the hospital by members of the presidential staff.

Dates for Study Groups Reported

BOISE (AP) — Meeting dates for three study committees were announced today by the Idaho Legislative Council.

Director Myran Schlecht said the committee on state government structure will meet Oct. 15, the group which is studying Idaho's business climate will be in session Oct. 26 and the committee studying possible reorganization of Idaho courts will meet Oct. 29.

All meetings will be in Boise.

3 Witnesses Testify in Murder Case

BURLEY — Three witnesses testified in the preliminary hearing of Juan R. Ruiz, 40, Rupert, Thursday afternoon before Probate Judge Vern Carter, who has not yet made a ruling in the case.

Ruiz is charged with first degree murder in the stabbing death of Augustin Ramirez, 24, at 12:35 a.m. Sept. 12 outside the Rancho Benito tavern in Burley.

Witnesses appearing were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Molina and Mrs. Paul Cazarez. Molina and Mrs. Cazarez, husband, Ramon Cazarez, originally were charged jointly in the murder case, but they were released and charges dropped Sept. 27.

The witnesses gave details of the argument and resulting scuffle. Ramirez was pronounced dead on arrival at Cassia Memorial Hospital.

Ruiz is being held in Cassia county jail without bond.

THE PATIENT, President Johnson, and Mrs. Johnson arrive shortly before midnight at Bethesda Naval Hospital, where the chief executive underwent a gall bladder operation Friday morning. The President entered the hospital after a hectic 14-hour business-as-usual day. (AP wirephoto)

Rupert Mayor Will Seek Second Term

RUPERT — Mayor Wendell Johnson has announced he will seek a second term as mayor of Rupert, but as yet has not filed. Election date is scheduled for Nov. 2.

Mayor Johnson is affiliated with Trevisco and Johnson, farm equipment dealers in Rupert, and has served one term as mayor.

In a statement Wednesday, Johnson stated, if elected, he plans to continue the storm sewer project in Rupert which is a $1,400,000 investment, and which he feels is an immediate need.

The engineering and initial work of the project has been financed by local improvement district loans, Johnson said.

The mayor also reported a retirement program for city employees is in the planning stage and also that he is keen on getting for city jobs.

The two four-year city council posts to be filled are presently held by Harold Carraway and George MacDonald. Carraway has taken out a petition but MacDonald has not yet filed whether or not he will seek the post.

Petitions may be obtained at the city office and the last day of filing is Oct. 21.

Registration for voting will be held at the city office on Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Voting will be held in the Rupert Civic building for Ward one and in the Minidoka County Courthouse for Ward two, with polling places located from noon to 8 p.m. on Nov. 2.

Mrs. Doris Hyde is judge for Ward one and Ruth Reynolds and Barbara Dalry, clerks. Mrs. Floyd Fruit is judge for Ward two with Louise Culbertson and Lois Lehman, clerks.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

High pressure at the surface remains over the Intermountain Region with a low pressure center located in British Columbia. A trailing cold front from this storm center in Canada is starting to enter the Pacific Northwest in the Seattle area. Regulating points in the valleys of Southern Idaho have mostly cloudy skies. Another fair day with above normal temperatures for this time of the year is in store for today as high pressure both at the surface and aloft remains sufficiently strong. This high pressure will be weakening slightly and moving southward allowing the cold front to the west to move into the northern Intermountain Region. Some cooling is indicated on Saturday along with stronger and gusty winds. Cloudiness will be increasing on Saturday with partly cloudy skies, windy and cooler expected on Sunday.

The influx of warmer air ahead of the front in the Pacific Northwest will bring some further warming today with temperatures in the mid 70s and into the 80s. Increasing winds will provide milder nighttime readings tonight with forecast minimums in the upper 30s to low 50s. Temperatures on Saturday will be lowering back into the 70s and lower 80s.

No definite trend in temperatures during the past 24 hours was noted as all changes were quite small.

Firemen Set Open House On Saturday

RUPERT — The Rupert Fire Department will hold open house for the public beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday in observance of National Fire Prevention Week.

Firemen will serve refreshments and give the public a chance to see all of the fire fighting equipment and the fire haul.

Witnesses said the boy ran across Third Street North in front of the Soden vehicle and was knocked under the front of the car. No citation was issued. City police investigated.

Jerome Plans 5-Week Class In Self Help

JEROME — The Jerome County American Red Cross Chapter has joined with the Jerome County Civil Defense organization in sponsoring a medical self-help training program for Jerome county residents.

The course, to begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, will give citizens training in advanced first aid and instructions for survival in the event of a national emergency.

This course, compiled by the Office of Civil Defense for training the civilian population, is approved by the American Medical Association and the State Department of Health.

Don Jacobson, Jerome County Civil Defense director, said the course is designed to teach families to survive and to meet their health needs in the event they are deprived of a physician's care.

carding irregularity at all and that the President's blood pressure remained normal throughout.

During the operation, Mrs. Johnson and daughter Lucile, 18, remained in the bedroom across the hall from the President's.

A general anesthetic was used.

The medical estimate was that the President should remain in hospital for 10 days to two weeks.

"As is customary in abdominal surgery, there will be an early effort to get the patient to take a few steps and maintain muscle tone. The first may come before the 10th day."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, acting under arrangements made by the President, took over as standby chief executive of the nation.

A few minutes after the surgery, Moyers, gave word to newsmen that the operation was over and said the President was "resting well in the operating suite."

He said Johnson was recovering normally.

Moyers' statement that a stone was also located in the ureter was also found in addition to a gallstone.

The ureter is a tube leading from the kidney for the passage of urine to the outside of the body.

No mention of the possibility of a kidney stone had been made in previous discussions of the President's current illness.

But the President has a history of kidney stones, having had two of them removed over the years — one by surgery and another one by manipulation at a different time.

Victims Improve

KETCHUM — Two people injured in a one-car accident Sunday night of Ketchum at the improvement Friday at St. Joseph's Hospital, Boise.

Six Women Are Killed in Crash

DEMOPOLIS, Ala. (AP) — Seven women employed by a Demopolis fabric mill climbed into one car for the 20-mile trip to their Livingston, Ala., homes after work Thursday. Ten miles out of town, six of them died and a seventh was critically injured in a fatal accident.

The highway patrol said the car carrying the seven women was demolished when a log-laden truck slammed into it broadside, hurling the car 100 feet backward and over a dirt fill.

Let's Start Over

As many residents of Magic Valley are well aware by now, a year's hassle in shaping up over location of the College of Southern Idaho. The situation is quite close to getting completely out of hand. If forces presently at work are permitted to continue, there will be a nasty fight. It's ridiculous, particularly because all of Magic Valley stands to benefit from the College of Southern Idaho.

It would be difficult to say any one person or group could be blamed for what has developed. Last Autumn, when the Twin Falls County Committee of 25 was working so hard to create the junior college district, members of that group refused to discuss site. They repeated time and again that the matter of selecting a site for the college would be the responsibility of the first board of directors. Those directors would be appointed by the State Board of Education.

Later, when elections were promoted in Jerome and Gooding counties in an effort to bring those counties into the college district, one trustee issued a statement on behalf of the board, but without the knowledge of the other four members. The statement promised a site selection survey by an impartial three-man team. Realistically, additional promises must have been made regarding the site. Nothing else could explain the nearly 80 per cent vote of Jerome residents to join the college district. Voters must have been under the impression the college would be built in Jerome County, whether it was implied or promised.

Everyone is aware of how the Civic Auditorium Association has offered to purchase a site for the junior college and made some promises regarding building construction that don't add up with the amount of money known to be available to the Auditorium Association. Also, a group in Jerome County has been active in promoting a North Side location for the college. In all the maneuvering, pushing, pulling and tugging, the college's board of directors has all but lost its identity.

Even college directors aren't above criticism in the present situation. In fact, it would be difficult to find any individual who has been involved and still could claim to be above reproach.

The latest report making the rounds is that Jerome residents have been contacting large corporate contributors to the Twin Falls Civic Auditorium fund, asking the firms to withdraw their pledges for an auditorium. If the reports are true, it's a shameful, unconscionable action that illustrates clearly the extremes that can develop.

Members of the college board of directors have been called liars, an irresponsible, unfounded, rabble-rousing assertion. All five directors are known by their friends, neighbors and business associates as men of integrity and honor. Regardless of their individual traits, it's well known that the directors have split widely over the matter of a site for the college. Here is a startling point for trying to mend all the fences that have been broken in the college site stampede.

Directors should re-evaluate their efforts to establishing and maintaining a junior college that will be a credit to Magic Valley. Above all, they must function as a board, not as two different pressure groups or five individuals with their own personal ideas.

Directors would do well to recall their first meeting and a warning voiced at that session. In essence, they were advised to avoid secret actions and closed meetings. They were told there is no substitute for full and factual disclosure of everything connected with the college. Nevertheless, there have been secret meetings and undisclosed discussions that have contributed to the present situation.

While directors are patching up their fences, re-establishing proper communications among themselves and their college president, EVERYONE E.I.S.I. would be well advised to tense and resist all the emotionally-generated pressure over the college site. Perhaps the college board itself could take the lead in easing the pressure by simply announcing it will give absolutely no further attention to site selection for the next six months.

With more than 550 students presently enrolled in the junior college, directors must realize they are under pressure to do something about site before too many more months pass. By next fall, enrollment should be near capacity of present quarters and by the fall of 1967, the college could occupy its own plant. But right now it seems more important to do absolutely nothing rather than jeopardize the college.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON—It is nonsense to say that good ol' Tom Coleman was on trial; the man comes from one of the finest families in Lowndes County, Ala. The defendant was the murder victim, a white seminary student from New Hampshire named Jonathan Daniels, and he was accused and convicted of killing a Negro girl, wearing red underpants and believing in civil rights for colored folks.

By the standards of Hayneville, Ala., Daniels got a fair trial. He was tried for having the audacity to be gassed down by Tom Coleman outside a grocery store. He should have known that Lowndes County doesn't tolerate meddlers who believe the Negro has rights.

"WHAT ANY WOULD DO"—You find a fellow like that hanging around Hayneville and you get out and get a shotgun and murder him cold blood. Or, in the words of Defense Counsel Jon Phelps, "Tom Coleman did as any of us would have had to do." The jury nodded 12 heads crammed with pure thoughts about white supremacy and did its duty. Then members crowded around Tom Coleman to shake him hand.

Tom Coleman has been tried in the temple of justice," said Defense Counsel Hill Robinson, a state senator under oath to defend the law, but Robinson was wrong. It was Jonathan Daniels who was on trial on the treacherous charge that he was different. In Hayneville, you do not try a man like good ol' Tom Coleman, a highway engineer on Gov. George Wallace's payroll, whose daddy's name graces the football field behind the courthouse.

CHARGED BETWEEN LINES—To be sure, Jonathan Daniels was not charged in the indictment, which accused Coleman of the blood count of manslaughter. But even in Lowndes County, justice pines through the mountains. Judge T. Worth Thigpen even listened patiently to a T. Worth Thigpen plea by the prosecution before reading a postscript which would have permitted testimony from Father Richard Morrissey, a Chicago priest, who was critically wounded by a second blast from Coleman's shotgun.

And an all-white Lowndes County jury can read through the lines of an indictment, even though its members have to move their lips. Tom Coleman, who admitted the shooting but claimed self defense, allowed that he was "happy" after the verdict was announced. So was most of Lowndes County. It is a neighborhood which has its peculiar set of mores, and the jury had dutifully upheld the right of citizens of "good reputation" to remain and murder any civil rights worker who was a threat to the status quo of the people's slavery mystique. "Thou shalt not kill" in Lowndes County unless the victim is trying to enforce the Constitution.

And yet the tragedy of Lowndes County is not that Jonathan Daniels was murdered in cold blood. These things happen even in the pious North. Hayneville's shame, and Alabama's disgrace, is a situation which not only punishes but encourages such wanton spilling of blood. Hayneville is not concerned that its name is a curse in other parts of the nation, but proud that the citizenry came so gallantly to the defense of its standards.

Attorney General Katzenbach has said that what happened in Hayneville is the price you have to pay for the jury system. I don't think it's his price. Perhaps, in his position, Katzenbach should be applauded for his noble detachment, but his words have not raised Jonathan Daniels from the dead. If the Attorney General is saving his wrath for a rainy day, someone should remind him that in Alabama it is already raining.

Views of Others

WRONG THING, WRONG PLACE
Richard M. Nixon's 16-day tour of Asia, described as a "private business trip," has been accompanied by public statements at every stop calling for "victory" in Viet Nam and denouncing proposals for peace negotiations. In a Saigon news conference the former vice president said the Republican party would make a campaign issue out of Viet Nam in 1968 and 1969 if President Johnson ended the war there by compromise.

The propriety of carrying an American political debate abroad, doubtful in any circumstances, is even more questionable when controversial statements concerning a war situation are uttered from a platform in the war zone itself. But the issue raised by Mr. Nixon's remarks, which oppose a settlement based on concessions by both sides—is far more important than the unfortunate location he chose for the purpose.

The idea that unconditional surrender can be imposed on North Viet Nam is an illusion that has been abandoned since the American loss since have abandoned. President Johnson has since have abandoned. Victory is impossible for either side. He has accompanied military pressure with proposals that offer North Viet Nam a way out of the present impasse.

The effect of the President's proposal on the non-aligned countries—and on Moscow and Hanoi—seems to have Communist China worried. Peking in recent weeks has felt it necessary to urge Hanoi to fight on. But the Chinese leaders are evidently unable to offer any more solid encouragement than the will-o-the-wisp hope that other "liberation wars" in Asia, Africa and Latin America ultimately will help the Vietnamese Communists defeat the United States.

In these circumstances, Mr. Nixon's remarks can only be tragically harmful, encouraging an unrealistic intransigence just at the moment when a vital debate seems to be going on within the Communist world.—New York Times.

ANOTHER ARGUMENT

After encountering several young men with beetle haircuts over the past weekend, the writer has new hope today that fewer youngsters will be inclined to try wearing this fashionable hairdo.

The hope came in a news report yesterday that the type of haircut where the hair is combed over the forehead leads to aggravated acne. More and more acne cases are being encountered by dermatologists as the result of this trend toward wearing the hair long in front.

While some youngsters seem to take pride in the type of haircut, the majority thank goodness stay with the clean-cut. All-American look that comes with a short, neat hair trim ranging down to the athletic styling of the crew-cut. When you've lived for a considerable number of years, you can look back at all the fads and crazes which have caught the fancy of the young folks. Some were just plain silly, others made some sense.

But we still have not achieved an understanding of the beetle craze and the infatuation of many young people for the music (2) and styles of the British musicians who have come a long way through their performances in this country.—Longview Daily News.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Q—Is the new drug, Indocin, which is used for arthritis, experimental? Should it be used in addition to cortisone? What are the side effects?

A—Although indomethacin (Indocin) has only recently been available in the United States it has been used for several years in some European countries and is no longer considered experimental. It has given excellent results in about 90 per cent of the persons who have used it for gouty arthritis, osteoarthritis (hypertrophic arthritis), rheumatoid arthritis and other varieties.

It has a distinct advantage over the cortisone group of drugs in that it can be used for prolonged periods. In the treatment of these chronic conditions, therefore, it should replace the cortisones because of the serious side effects of the latter.

A side effect from too large a dosage of indomethacin are headache, depression, dizziness and digestive upsets. If any of these occur the dosage should be reduced.

Q—Is there such a thing as a white-haired person? Is a con- tinuous hair loss a sign of aging?

A—Although Shakespeare speaks of "illy-divered cowards," this expression is purely fanciful. In fatty degeneration of the liver, the organ becomes pale yellow. This may occur in alcoholic cirrhosis, diabetes, obesity and various types of poisoning. In cancer of the liver the tumor is white but the liver tissues remain normal color. In either case, there is no danger of contagion.

Q—Why do so many elderly people take mace? What is it given for? Could it cause a rash or itching?

A—Niacin or nicotinic acid is given for the vitamin deficiency disease, pellagra, but most of the elderly people who take it—and in very large doses—do so to reduce the cholesterol level in their blood. This helps to prevent hardening of the arteries. Large doses often cause flushing of the neck, with or without itching, but this can be prevented by switching to the closely related nicotamide.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

In East Berlin I found myself privileged to inspect the intelligence estimates revealing new Red Army influences in Kromi politics and policies that now bear on our country and the world.

The over-all German intelligence apparatus is the BND, based in Bonn, and it has three groups: Intelligence, espionage, counter-intelligence.

Within the last, Henry J. Taylor, Section "F" is enemy intelligence and its main objective, of course, is the penetration of the Soviet Army at the command and policy level.

The most available and exposed target is the immense Soviet military headquarters at Wandsdorf outside East Berlin. This occupation force of 300,000 troops, some units standing within 93 miles of the Rhine, is regarded as the cream of the Red Army and its commander, General Koshoyev, ranks high among Russian military elite.

The Section "F" discoveries by its agents and other penetrations at Wandsdorf are also supported independently by the unique and excellent Institute for the Study of the U.S.S.R. in Munich.

The Communist Party Central Committee's Glavnoye Politicheskoye Upravleniye (Main Political

"Nothing in this act shall be construed as authorizing the execution of agreements requiring membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment in any state or territory in which such requirement is prohibited by state or territorial law."

That imposes nothing on organized labor, Section 14-B is wholly permissive. It permits the people of any state or territory to decide for themselves whether they shall or shall not have laws requiring compulsory unionism. Compulsion is the opposite of liberty and liberty is one of the unalienable rights noted in the Declaration of Independence. It is too room for that document to go out of style.

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—The queen bees of the business world are its office secretaries.

While there may be a few dragons hidden among them, it is the secretarial group that keeps the hive really buzzing. They know where all the skeletons are buried, too.

The board of directors of any organization could improve the firm if they just had at hand the information readily dispensed, after the first round of daquiris, by the office secretaries at their chatty weekly Friday luncheons.

If you look around your own office, you'll probably find some of the following secretarial types familiar:

"The huntress"—Working isn't for her. She is looking for a man to enter her life. After trying her wiles on everybody on the board chairman to the head office boy, she announces, "This place is full of drips." Then she quits and moves on to another office where she hopes for better luck.

"The keeper of the gate"—Any salesmen who wants to get in to see the boss learns early that he'd better bribe this greedy little lass. If he doesn't bring her flowers, take her to dinner, and send her half a dozen pairs of stockings on her birthday, he'll spend endless hours cooling his heels waiting for a chance to get through the magic door and deliver his sales messages to the right ears.

"Goldilocks"—It is her first job since leaving secretarial school, and she thinks every executive in the office wants to make love to her. Whenever she is asked to stay an hour late, she phones her mother and big brother and asks them to come and wait for her in the reception room.

"The actress"—Nobody looks more efficient than she, but every other secretary hates her because they have to do her work. She puts a one-page letter in her typewriter in the morning, and at quitting time appears to be busily pounding away at it. But she has her boss completely fooled. He thinks she is the hardest-working girl in the office.

"The plottor"—In her imagination she is a real power behind the throne. She spends most of her days conspiring to win promotion for some slavish junior executive who has sought her favor, or conspiring to punish someone for a fancied insult.

"The idolator"—No matter

Becker made the winning decision and gained six International Match Points for the United States. This brought our lead to 25 IMPs. Unfortunately that was our largest lead of the match and Italy started whittling away at it from then on. Becker had three non-trumps. ## TRUSTY MISSING

BOISE (AP) — The walkaway of a trusty at the Idaho State Penitentiary was reported Friday.

Listed as missing was Kenneth Clair Davis, 32, who was serving a three-year term from Twin Falls County for issuing a check without funds.

He was a trusty assigned to the night shift at the prison heating plant. Authorities said he was missing at a routine check-up at 1 a.m.

URGES YOUTH PROGRAM

BOISE (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie urged Thursday approval of a Neighborhood Youth Corps program requested by the Coeur d'Alene Indian tribe of north Idaho.

The governor said the project would provide work experience and income for 50 young men and women between the ages of 18 and 21.

He said the project would provide enrollment with experience in construction, wildlife preservation and rodent and predator eradication.

PILOTS WARNED

BOISE (AP) — Pilots of helicopters and light planes were warned against using the Snake River's Hells Canyon as a low-level route between north and south Idaho.

Chet Moulton, state aeronautics director, said contractors building the Idaho Power Co.'s Hells Canyon dam have strung a three-quarter-inch cable across the canyon at the dam site, about 200 to 300 feet above the river.

Hazard-marker spheres are attached to the cable as a warning to pilots, Moulton said.

Moulton said that the Snake River route often has been used in the past, particularly during the winter, because it often provides cloud-free flying when higher routes are obscured.

He said it is possible for a plane, flying through the canyon, to travel from Lewiston to Boise at an altitude of little more than 2,000 feet above sea level.

Funds Still

Available

Board Notes

POCATELLO (AP) — Members of the State Parks Board Thursday night told local officials there is still about $250,000 in unallocated federal funds available for park and recreation development in Idaho cities and counties from the Land and Water Conservation Act.

Appearing at a city commission meeting to explain operation of the board and its role in allocating federal funds were John Soderblom, Boise, acting director of the federal agency; William R. Frome, chairman, state representative from Fremont County; and Cecil Sandburg, state senator from Bingham County.

Soderblom said the $250,000 is what is left of about $300,000 allocated to the state during the last two years. In 1965 the first grants amounted to about $102,000.

This fiscal year, about $230,000 came in. And in fiscal year 1967 about $1,400,000 is expected.

Soderblom said the 1967 figure should be about the average sum available yearly to Idaho in the future.

The Land and Water Conservation Act funds are available on a 50-50 matching basis. The State Parks Board, which has been in operation since July 1, was assigned to work out a state master plan for park and recreation development.

The State Parks Board, the Highway Department, and the Fish and Game Department are the only three state agencies which have applied for the matching funds.

From said state parks to be developed with the funds include the Priest Lake area and Payette Lake area. Campgrounds are to be developed in the Massacre Rock area, and initial facilities such as culinary water are to be installed for campers at Bear Lake. Land for park development will be obtained around house and in the Magic Valley area.

NEGLECTED RULED

GRANGEVILLE, Idaho (UPI) — A coroner's jury has ruled negligence was involved in the death Tuesday of Lowell, Idaho, packer William McMahon.

Idaho County Coroner Dr. William Morrison said the six-man jury decided Thursday Dr. McMahon was negligent in his observation of a target before shooting.

McMahon was shot through the abdomen with a 30.06 rifle after he had picked three hunters into the Coolwater Ridge area about 75 miles northwest of Grangeville. Dr. Morrison and two other Idaho Falls doctors made up the hunting party.

Officers said McMahon was wearing tan chaps and riding a buckskin horse when he was shot.

COYOTE DONATED TO ZOO — POCATELLO (AP) — "Boy," a young coyote who has been living a dog's life, now makes his home in the Ross Park Zoo.

The coyote, about five months old, was donated to the zoo Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Bullock, who live on a small farm. Mrs. Bullock's father found the animal when it was about two weeks old in a den on the desert near Pinedale.

The animal grew up like a dog. It wrestled playfully with her "other" dogs, Mrs. Bullock said. She always kept the coyote on a leash or tied it to a doghouse in the rear yard.

Recently Boy began getting away and making trips into the desert. Last week on one of his night escapades, the coyote killed 25 of the Bullocks' chickens. Hoping to prevent such a recurrence, and fearing the animal might be shot by a hunter, the Bullocks agreed to donate it to the zoo.

Boy resembles a coyote which had to be destroyed several weeks ago after an aerial in an adjacent cage reached through a fence and got hold of the animal's leg, mauling it badly.

ENROLLMENT IS RECORD — LEWISTON (AP) — Officials at Lewis-Clark National School report a record 663 students have enrolled for fall classes. That is an increase of more than 200 over last year's registration.

President Wayne Sims said classes are growing and every available classroom is being used to accommodate the record number of students.

BIDDER IS LOWEST — BOISE (AP) — Idaho Construction Co., Inc., of Meridian, was listed as apparent low bidder Thursday on a Southwest Idaho forest highway project.

The Bureau of Public Roads said the firm bid $63,629. The work involves regrading and repair of 7.856 miles of State Highway 21 between Lowman and Stanley.

The work begins about 12.5 miles northeast of Lowman and extends in a northeasterly direction.

There was only one other bidder, Carl Woodall, Boise, with an offer of $78,661.

Officials Okay Flood Project

POCATELLO (AP) — City commissioners here endorsed a proposed federal flood control project Thursday night, ending a dispute with the Army Corps of Engineers over length and assuring the beginning of construction on schedule.

For several weeks commissioners have been urging the Corps of Engineers, federal administrators of the $5 million project, to extend it about a mile downstream beyond the city limits.

The Corps refused, saying the added expense would not be worth the benefits derived.

Six of the seven commissioners voted to pass the resolution endorsing the project.

Salt Lake Oil Strike Is Averted

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A strike of four American Oil Co. employees, including one at Salt Lake City, was averted shortly after midnight Thursday.

Agreement was reached between American Oil and the Oil Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union, Local 2286. It said a working agreement, which was to expire at the end of June, 1966, was extended through 1966 as part of the agreement.

Holcomb said a strike would have affected about 1,500 union employees at three other refineries at Texas City, Tex.; Sugar Creek, Mo., and Eldorado, Ark.

There was no actual work stoppage, Holcomb said, although the refinery here was on a standby basis for a strike.

200 Japanese Are Missing In Pacific

TOKYO (AP) — Six Japanese fishing boats with about 200 crewmen were reported missing today in the South Pacific after a mighty typhoon raked the area Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Maritime Safety Board made this report following an intensive air and sea search around the Mariana Islands about 700 miles south of Tokyo.

Two Japanese patrol boats and three U.S. planes from Guam began combing the area early today.

The typhoon, with maximum winds of more than 100 miles an hour, was east-southeast of two Jima today and moving north.

It was reported earlier from Guam that Carmen hit the tiny U.S. trust territory of Agrihan Island near Guam today, destroying buildings and sinking five Japanese fishing boats.

Island communications were out and whether there were injuries was unknown.

U.S. Air Force planes nearby were reported ready to drop medical supplies and supplies.

Democracy Contest Data Is Reported

BUHL — Deadline for submitting tape entries in the 19th annual Voice of Democracy contest being sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Ladies Auxiliary is Dec. 10, according to local VFW officials.

The contest is open to all students from the 10th through the 12th grade. The contest in the local high school is being directed by Aldrich Bowler, speech and drama instructor.

The theme topic for this year's contest is "Democracy: What It Means to Me." The length of the script may not be less than three minutes and no longer than five minutes. Students planning to participate are urged to develop their talk with the following basic questions in mind.

As a student what is your personal role in preserving our democratic way of life? What specifically are you doing to keep our democracy alive and working? What more can you and your classmates do to keep our nation strong and free?

Students may not refer to race, creed or national origin in any way identifying themselves in the script. The method of delivery should be normal and conversational style, suitable for television and radio commentaries. The contest is judged 40 per cent on originality, 40 per cent on content, and 20 per cent on delivery.

Local prizes are to be announced soon. The local-top winner will have his winning speech professionally taped and then sent on to statewide judging. The state winner will receive an all expense paid trip to Washington, D.C., and the national winner will receive a $5,000 scholarship.

TRIBUTES were held Oct. 4 and 5 and the students selected were Kathy Krenzler as Sabina, Betty Newell as Mrs. Anselmus, Jerry Higgins as Mr. Anselmus, Becky Hoffmaster as Gladys, Tom Vissers as Henry, Rhonda Miracle as the fortune teller, George Borchers as the announcer, John Mullenwage as Mr. Fitzpatrick, Tom Stephens as the telegraph boy, David Bauch as doctor, convenor No. 2, Ken Eldard as professor, convenor No. 5, Chuck Lassen as an judge, convenor No. 3, Mike Winterholter as Homer, convenor No. 1, Randy Sken as chair pusher, Chris High as Mr. Tremayne, bingo caller, and Joe Valask as Fred Bailey, usher.

Other students selected include Jerry Routh as Convenor No. 4, Susan York as the singer, Janet Brown as the mammal, Shirley Ball as majorette No. 1, Gayle Fisher as majorette No. 2, Gayle Carlson as Miss E. Muse, Kathy Shirley as Miss T. Muse, women convenor.

The commission, in its ruling last month, said the needs of the telephone users of the Mountain States on long distance hookups.

COMMISSIONER — The DuBois Telephone Exchange asked the Public Service Commission Thursday to re-hear its arguments with Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph.

The commission Sept. 8 ruled against the DuBois firm which sought authority to have Mountain States connect long distance toll service with the DuBois certificate boundary instead of at the town of DuBois where it now connects.

DuBois, in its request Thursday, in effect asked the PSC to reconsider its decision.

The DuBois firm charged in its original application that it was losing money because it could not furnish long distance facilities to users within its area.

Rupert Chamber Names Group

RUPERT — A new rodeo committee was announced for the Rupert Chamber of Commerce during the weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at the Herring Cafe.

Mervin Ling, chamber president, announced members of the permanent rodeo committee approved by the board of directors include John Trevino, chairman; Henry Ducker, Richard Bohle, Don Bullantyne, Fred Brice, Wayne Hollenbeck, H. H. Judd, Richard Westendorp and Mervin Ling.

Ling also announced a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and members of the new committee will be held Oct. 14 at the chamber office.

Kenneth Bell, chamber director, discussed Fire Prevention Week being observed Oct. 3-9. He said Fire Prevention Week is held in observance of the anniversary of the great Chicago fire of 1871, when 250 lives were lost, 17,330 buildings were destroyed and the cost was $175,000,000.

He emphasized the No. 1 cause of all fire is matches and smoking and defective electrical appliances in the No. 2 cause. Of the 14,000 persons who lost their lives in 1964, one-half this number was children. Bell pointed out this is one-fourth as many persons who died in auto accidents during the same period of time.

Fire drills should be conducted in the home in order that members of the family will know what to do in case of a fire. All electrical appliances in the home should be checked periodically to make sure they are in good working order and persons who use pennies in fuse boxes are "asking for trouble," Bell said.

Bell also spoke briefly on insurance rates in the nation up to Idaho. He urged members to be concerned about community problems and to know first

Moslems Riot, Burn Office Of Red Party

JAKARTA (AP) — Several thousand young Indonesian Moslems burned the headquarters of the Indonesian Communist party, the PKI, to the ground today.

Indonesian army troops who moved to the back of the attempted riot last week cordoned off the PKI headquarters and did not interfere with the demonstrators.

The one-story building was riddled with bullets. Three fire trucks played water on them.

The demonstrators youths, "Kill Aiki" and "Dis-kill Aiki." D. N. Aiki is the PKI secretary of the PKI. He has been out of sight since the riot failed last weekend.

A Jakarta radio broadcast said 500,000 persons held an anti-Communist rally in Jakarta today. The main stadium today. The rally was very tense atmosphere and got somewhat out of hand when some of the crowd began shouting "Kill Kill Kill immediately!"

After burning the PKI headquarters, the demonstrators paraded through the streets shouting "To hell with PKI."

Behind the PKI headquarters, a three-story concrete building is under construction for a new party headquarters. The demonstrators did not touch it.

Truckloads of demonstrators moved the American Embassy yesterday to live America, the embassy is marked contrast to the numerous anti-American demonstrations the Communists have staged before the embassy.

The Indonesian army, meanwhile, continued its anti-Communist campaign despite President Sukarno's attempts to check it.

Test Vote Is Set to Revoke State's Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — A parliamentary move set up an initial test vote today of Senate members on a bill to revoke the power of states to ban the atomic bomb.

Neither side expected a clear-cut vote. All-volunteer-individuals were that the vote would show a majority favoring the bill but less than the two-thirds majority needed to end a filibuster which is blocking a direct vote.

Sen. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who introduced the test, said he expects the vote to continue at least into next week. He said he did not know what his next move would be.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, leading the opposition, said the bill's passage is prepared to continue the debate.

Labor union leaders urged support of the bill, which would repeal the authority under which 19 states now ban compulsory union membership.

Following up telegrams to all members by AFL-CIO President George Meany Thursday, three vice presidents of the labor organization who are Republicans directed specific appeals to GOP members.

They said they "are deeply dismayed to see the Republican majority officially leading a campaign to prevent the Senate from voting."

Negro Dramatist To Perform Here

James Oliver Lyle, Negro dramatist, will give a presentation of biblical recitations and dramatics—in costume—at 7 p.m. Sunday at the First Christian Church.

The public is welcome and there will be no admission charge, according to Rev. Donald Hoffman, pastor.

Lyle is a graduate of Wilkes University, attended Pittsburgh Playhouse School of Theater and studied in Madras and Solovova's Studio of Drama in New York City.

He has traveled extensively throughout America and presented his program in churches, schools, colleges and social clubs. Included in his repertoire are "The Creation," "The Good Man," "The Preacher," "The Sermons in Verse from the Bible," "The Tragedy of Life" and "Lazarus, Rise."

Youths Held For Death of Woman, Girl

BELLOWS FALLS, VI. (AP) — Two Connecticut youths, aged 14 and 15, were held today in the slaying of the mother and sister of one of them.

They were captured Thursday night after a state trooper spotted them at a traffic light and followed them to a roadside restaurant in the country village of Chester, on the outskirts of Bellows Falls.

Police said Roger Beaudry Jr., 15, and James McCann, 14, surrendered without a struggle after Trooper Gerald Tefevre called for aid.

Officials said they were suspects in the shooting of Beaudry's mother, Ella Beaudry, 42, and his sister, Roberta, 11. The bodies were found late Wednesday in their Chesire, Conn., home by Roger Beaudry Sr., husband and father of the victims. Both had been shot in the head.

The boys were not armed, police said, but four guns were found in the car trunk.

The fathers of the boys said they had never been in serious trouble.

The shootings apparently took place while dinner was being prepared, police said.

A partly assembled bicycle was found in the basement. Police said the slain girl was in a contest and that the family had picked it up the day she was killed.

Mrs. Beaudry's body was found at the foot of stairs leading to the second floor of the house, police said. Roberta's was nearby. A trail of blood led from the top of the stairs to the bodies.

When Beaudry returned from his job at a trucking company, he called police and said, "I just found my wife and daughter dead!"

Beaudry told police that the family car was missing, along with $500 in cash and four guns — a .22 rifle, a .30-30 rifle, a pump-action shotgun and a double-barreled shotgun.

The Beaudry home is near the town lines of Waterbury and Prospect, Conn.

The McCann youth lives in Prospect, a short distance from the Beaudry home.

Mrs. G. Coiner Will Host T. F. Music Club

Mrs. George Coiner will host the Monday meeting of the Twin Falls Music Club. Mrs. Coiner resides six miles east of Washington School.

Mrs. J. Garland Gibbs is program chairman and Mrs. James Kinney will read a biography of Sister Berta Hummel. Mrs. Kinney has compiled and written the biography and will have various figurines on display. Mrs. Clyde Koonz will read poems written for these specific figurines.

Mrs. David Mead, accompanied by Mrs. Donald Youtz, will sing "Tell Me Lovely Shepherd" by Poston, and "Fusareine" by Wolf.

Mrs. Gibbs, violinist, will play the "C Major Sonata" by Mozart. The final number will be the Bach-Gounod, "Ave Maria," performed by Mrs. Mead and Mrs. Gibbs. Mrs. Robert Denton is accompanied for the last two numbers.

Ruth Rebekah Lodge Convenes

BURLEY—The 114th Anniversary of Rebekah Degree was the theme of the Ruth Rebekah Lodge meeting, with Mrs. Carl Leslie, noble grand, presiding. The 20-year Veteran Jewel awards were presented to Mrs. Lloyd Cox, Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. Martha Estes and Mrs. Dorothy McConeley.

Putty Hondo, a senior at Burley High School, was guest speaker. She told of her recent trip to Germany where she resided with a German family. Mrs. Hondo won the trip to Germany through International Scholarship with the American Club Service.

A report on a trip to England was given by Mrs. Vanessa Anderson.

A fish fry, prepared by IOOF members, was served to IOOF members and guests prior to the lodge meeting.

Guests attended from Rupert and Blackfoot lodges. The Harvest Dinner Smorgasbord is slated from 5:30 to 8 p.m. Saturday at IOOF Hall. The public is invited.

Lodge Members To Donate Food

SHOSHONE — Opal Rebekah Lodge members will donate food to the food train for the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Home, Caldwell, it was announced at a recent meeting.

A program on Chills was given by Mrs. George Horn in keeping with the current project of establishing the IOOF and Rebekah Lodges in that country.

Mrs. T. V. Strunk reported on Founders Day.

The next meeting is at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Plans are underway for a special program at that time.

MR. AND MRS. CECIL DURRANT

Bonnie Baird, Durrant Wed in Temple Rites

JRROME—Bonnie Ann Baird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wayne Baird, 3611 10th, and Thomas Cecil Durrant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Durrant, Jerome, were married Aug. 10 at the Idaho Falls LDS Temple.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Elder Rodrick Miller.

The couple was honored that evening at a reception at the Goshen LDS Church.

An arch decorated with green boughs and orange bows, flanked by banners of "Bride" and "Groom," formed the background setting for the ceremony.

The bride wore a floor-length gown styled with a fitted satin bodice and a skirt of nylon chiffon and escaped lace over tulle. The train of chiffon and scalloped lace was held in place at the waist with a nylon bow.

A tiara of pearls and aqua held her fingertip veil of illusion.

She carried a bouquet of Tallman roses and white carnations accented with green velvet leaves and white streamers.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Albert Cleverley, Idaho Falls, sister of the bride. Maid of honor was Janet Aldridge, Burley.

Bridesmaids were Beryl Dawn Baird and Alecia Baird, both sisters of the bride; Marlene Durrant, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Lee Osborne, Logan, and Mrs. Ronald Drake, Pocatello.

Best man was Lamar Hilt, Arco. Albert Cleverley, Idaho Falls, and John Ockerman, Blackfoot, were ushers.

Mrs. Doris Adams, Blackfoot, played background music during the reception. Soloists were Anna Holm and Richard Baird, Orem, Utah.

Mrs. Anna Sullivan, Vancouver, Wash., sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

The couple was honored at an open house Aug. 21 at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The bride's table was covered with lace and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with orange roses and tapers with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Presiding at the table were Mrs. Russell Woolley, Mrs. William Butler and Mrs. Lawrence Durrant, a unit of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Ardell Halberman and Mrs. Ronald Cook, Columbus, Ohio, sister of the bride, arranged the gifts.

Guests were served at quartet tables covered with beige and orange cloths and centered with tea roses and lighted tapers.

The couple took a wedding trip to Alturas Lake.

Out-of-town guests attended from Ohio, Washington, California, Utah, Pocatello, Rexburg, Woodland and Magic Valley communities.

The couple will reside in Salt Lake City, where Durrant will continue his studies at the university.

The bride's parents hosted a wedding luncheon at their home following the ceremony at the LDS Temple.

Hostess Named
SHOSHONE — Mrs. Marvin Pearson was hostess for members of the Grand Slam Bridge Club. Guests were Mrs. Joe Paganga, Mrs. Roy Bates and Mrs. William Thompson.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Arthur Gentry, Mrs. Roy Bates and Mrs. Omer Shook.

Judson Circle Has Supper

FILER — Mrs. Joseph Miller was hostess at a salad supper for members of the Judson Circle of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Paul Patterson gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Raymond Rutherford was in charge of the devotional service. Mrs. Edward Andrews gave the thought for the day.

Plans were made for a guild rally banquet set for October. Mrs. James Corbett was welcomed as a new member. The White Cross quota for the year was read and accepted.

Delta Chapter
Has Luncheon

Delta Chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority, held its October meeting at Kay's Supper Club.

Hostesses were Mrs. Gem Howard, Mrs. Ferrell Chambers and Mrs. Ralph H. Dunn.

Bronze-colored chrysanthemums and lighted candles comprised the table decorations.

A book review, "My Shadow Ran Fast," by Bill Sands was given by Mrs. Eva Olson. Mrs. W. W. Pressey was accompanist for group singing.

Magic Valley Favorites

LUCILLE WILSON
Route 2, Twin Falls

HOT MILK CAKE
Beat two eggs until light. Gradually add one cup sugar and one teaspoon vanilla. Sift together one cup pastry flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one teaspoon baking powder.

Add quickly, beating well, one-half cup milk and one tablespoon shortening that has been heated together to the boiling point. Stir until mixed. (This batter is real thin, so do not add more flour.)

Pour into a 6-inch square greased pan. Bake about 35 minutes at 350 degrees. Remove from oven and spread with the following mixture:

1/2 cup coconut
3 tablespoons brown sugar
3 tablespoons melted butter
1 tablespoon milk

Put in oven and brown (very carefully) under broiler.

(The Times-News will pay $5 each week for the best recipe submitted for Magic Valley Favorites. If you have a favorite recipe, just mail it to the Service Department, Women's Page editor. The recipe becomes the property of the Times-News and cannot be returned.)

Shirley Moore, Mahan Repeat Nuptial Promise

Shirley Ann Moore, daughter of Mrs. Clyde Moore, Twin Falls, and Second Lt. Thomas P. Mahan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Mahan Sr., Jerome, were united in marriage Sept. 18 at the First Methodist Church, Twin Falls.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. John Garbrandt before an altar flanked with tiffany baskets of Riviera gladioli and brass candelabra holding matching tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Willard C. Moore, Twin Falls, wore a gown of imported Jacquard brocade. The bodice and elbow-length sleeves were accented with a cord of matching fabric. The "A" line skirt fell to floor-length and the fish-tail removable train was enhanced with self cords and detailed down the center with small matching bows.

The bride's triple-tiered illusion veil fell from a Camelot bonnet of matching brocade topped by a pearl bow. The bride wore a string of pearls—a gift from the bridegroom.

She carried a cascade bouquet of Zorina roses and green velvet ivory centered with two white Cattleya orchids. The bouquet was tied with white velvet ribbon and loops of seed pearls.

Rita Moore, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Colleen Ward, Boise, and Zenna Griffith, Kellogg, sorority sisters of the bride, and Mary Pat Mahan, sister of the bridegroom. Joni Mottern, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Jeffery Moore and Jerry Mottern, nephews of the bride, were ringbearers. Candlelighters were Brad Relchert, nephew of the bride, and Joe Miller, cousin of the bridegroom.

Best man was Gary Towle, Jerome. Ushers were Gary Morris—Gary Alzawa and David Stewart—all Jerome.

Tom Holter, organist, Jerome, accompanied Clifford Amick, Pocatello, soloist.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride, Mrs. Jana (Frank) Vosika, Kimberly, sorority sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

The bride's table was covered with a white embroidered cloth centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped by three silver balls and flanked by two beaded-shaped cakes. Silver candelabra held white tapers and were entwined with garlands of smilax. Greenery encircled the cake and was studded with coral colored gladioli and roses. Arrangements of chrysanthemums in Grecian urns were placed throughout the room. Hanging coral-colored geraniums decorated the walls. Decorations were by Mrs. Lee (Julie) Fillmore of Julie's Flowers.

Mrs. W. L. McClure, Ft. Worth, Tex., and Mrs. Elmer Reichert, Filer, sisters of the bride, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Willard Moore, sister-in-law of the bride, poured coffee.

LT. AND MRS. THOMAS P. MAHAN JR.

and Mrs. Ben C. Mottern, sister of the bride, served punch. Janis Mottern and James Mottern were in charge of the gift table.

Following a short wedding trip to Sun Valley, the bride will resume her studies at Moscow, where she is a senior at the University of Idaho. The bridegroom received his commission from the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo. He will continue his training at Luke Air Force Base, Ariz., in October.

Background music for reception was played by Opal Bailey, Twin Falls.

Guests attended from Texas, Oregon, Boise, Jerome, Burley, Filer, Pocatello and Buhl.

The bride was honored with a lingerie shower hosted by Mrs. Jack Newell—at the Newell home.

Rehearsal dinner and party was given for the couple by the bridegroom's parents for the bride's party at Kay's Supper Club.

Coaches Swap Charges Over Idaho-Utag Tilt

If the coaches' feelings are liberally transmitted to the players, the Utah-Idaho football game at Logan Saturday shapes up as a real grudge duel. Behind the scenes the pre-game battle is raging between Idaho's Steve Musseau and Utah mentor Tony Knapp. Musseau's dander was roused last week when permission to work out on the day prior to the game on the Logan field was virtually denied.

Waterfowl Shoot Hours

The 1965-66 migratory waterfowl season opens at 11 a.m. Saturday throughout the Magic Valley Counties.

The morning opening includes all public shooting areas, including the one on the Mindoka Wildlife Refuge, not upon as was previously reported.

The morning hours listed below are for ducks and geese. The afternoon closing hours are for geese only. Ducks will remain legal targets for 30 minutes after the closing hours listed here.

Safety Is Stressed in Junior Rifle Course

Safety first, followed by basic fundamentals in firing and handling a rifle, keynotes the instruction of Chis Fearheller, junior rifle course at the Twin Falls Rifle and Pistol Club gallery range, this year under the instruction of Chis Fearheller, assisted by Arthur Weisman.

The significance of the importance placed on safety becomes evident in the fact that not one person who has completed the local junior course has been involved in a shooting accident.

The course is held at 7 p.m. each Thursday at the club gallery range, two and one-half miles north of Twin Falls on Washington Street North and one-quarter mile west on the canyon rim. There are 40 juniors (age 11 and up) now attending the course with room for about 20 more, according to Don Cote, range officer for the club. He added that anyone interested is welcome to attend.

Junior officers are Robert Flinn, president; Kurt Flinn, vice president; Carol Reppetto, secretary; and Tom Schlerer, range officer.

In addition to the junior course, there also will be rifle section meets at 8 p.m. on Mondays and Tuesdays and a combined rifle and pistol course on Wednesdays.

The Wednesday meeting is the first time in 10 years that the two courses have been combined. The course will run six weeks with Grant Spohn and Chris Fearheller instructors.

Registration for the National Rifle Association basic training course will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday with the first session following at 7:30. The six-week class is limited to 20 adults and will be held at the club gallery range.

Club officers this year are Dick Overfield, president; D. M. Jacobson, vice president; Marvin Fouts, secretary-treasurer; and Cote and Jerry Daley, range officers. Rifle section officers are Fearheller, president; Morris Moore, secretary; and Ruth Moore, range officer. Pistol division officers are Cote, president; Bud Brown, secretary; and Nick Henderson, range officer.

Frick is retiring this year after 14 years as baseball's head man.

Between 135 and 150 Magic Valley sports fans turned out Thursday night to see the film of the University of Idaho-Washington State football game last week.

Vandal Booster officials noted the Idaho-Utag tilt, stating they were shown at the Rogers Room (Up Room) next Thursday night. That game is slated for Saturday afternoon in Logan.

In Thursday's film, Idaho won 17-13.

AMERICANS ADVANCE
 MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—American junior welterweight Robert Smith and welterweight James States scored knockouts over their opponents Thursday in the first day of the international military boxing championships.

William Cassell, chief of the department, said judges very rarely recommend that no points be given for speeding.

Liston, since moving to Denver in 1963, had been charged twice previously with speeding, once with reckless driving, once with following another car too closely, and once with drunken driving. He was acquitted on the drunken driving charge.

U.S., British Belt Par and Finish Even

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)—The United States and Britain collided head-on in the biennial Ryder Cup golf matches Thursday, smashed par dizzy but wound up all-square at 44 after the first of three days of competition. "I've never seen anything like it," said Byron Nelson, the American non-playing captain. "It was an unbelievable day of golf."

German Split Unsettled at IOC Meeting

MADRID (UPI)—The question of separate recognition for East Germany was left unsettled Thursday after the 63rd congressional session of the International Olympic Committee became bogged down in discussion.

The problem of splitting the united German team was pushed back another day after Walter Traueger, secretary-general of the West German National Olympic Committee, called it a "day of disorder."

One of the stumbling blocks facing the committee was whether East German athletes could receive visas to compete in the 1968 winter Olympic games at Grenoble, France.

Avery expressed disappointment at the lack of progress.

"We had a very heated discussion all afternoon," Brundage said. "Unfortunately, the principal point—the proposed splitting of the united German team, has not been settled. We kept the meeting operating much longer than had been scheduled in a bid to reach the voting stage but it is very complicated and had to be dealt with cautiously."

The IOC, in its first working session, devoted the morning talks to discussion of the proposals put forward last week by National Olympic Committee bosses meeting in Rome.

O'Leary Eighth Grade Nips Buhi

Rich Semba threw a 30-yard pass to Frank Dehoney for a third quarter touchdown and then fumbled on the extra point Thursday afternoon as the O'Leary eighth grade edged Buhi 7-0.

Buhi, using a center-of-offense, ground out a touchdown in the fourth quarter but failed on the important conversion run. Buhi's offense had all the linemen on one side of the ball carrier. It proved one of the most unusual offenses ever tried in Magic Valley.

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed sharply higher today in heavy trading. Popular stock market averages were moving in the vicinity of record, high on Wall Street responded to the news that President Johnson's operation had been successful. Airlines and electronics made gains. Many stocks moved up. Big advances were made by some of the railroads following Thursday's rise to a record in the Dow Jones rail average.

Specialized issues, including Air, Union Pacific, Southern Railway, and Pittsburgh Coke provided trading excitement.

New strength was displayed by many of the high-flying issues which have been market favorites since early September. For the day was estimated at 7.5 million shares compared with 6.6 million Thursday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains of fractions to a point and a half were seen in key stocks pushed averages near record highs. The rise was not unanimous, however, many key issues doing little or nothing.

Airlines and electronics were conspicuous gainers. Eastern Air, 1 1/2 points, rose to a point and a half over a point were scored by Pan American, Northwest and National Airlines.

Amalgamated, Zenith and Raytheon slipped more than 1/4 point. Motorola and Admiral about 1/4 each. Magnacore and Fairchild slipped 1/4. Radio Corp. 1.

IBM gained 1/4. Polaroid 3/8. Xerox 1.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds continued to advance.

Grain

CHICAGO (AP)—A good milling demand for soybeans keyed the Board of Trade to firm prices through most of today's trading session.

The tone generally was good for other futures. Exporters and short traders took care as the cash price held firm, and there was scattered buying of wheat on the basis that a reduction in the crop carryover this year seems likely.

Oats and rye held up well in small trade.

Carlot receipts were estimated at: wheat 1 car, corn 76, oats 4, rye none, barley 5, soybeans 104.

Along Fences and Canals

Harvesting has begun on the Wayne O. Lewis ranch in Burley with what promises to be a good harvest.

Bruce Turner, Declo rancher, is still harvesting grain, and has recently finished his corn for silage. The high sub water in the area has hindered many of the farmers in threshing grain and corn, who say they never have had trouble such as this before.

A break accident took the life of a yearling Holstein calf on the Jay Kidd farm northeast of Declo this week. The calf apparently laid down under a tree stump to rest and became entangled. The Kidd children noticed the calf and a buzz saw was used to free it, but it soon died from lack of feed and water.

The J. A. McGraw family recently purchased the farm of Elmer Yarbrough in Declo, and has built a very attractive home around the yard and pasture.

Paul and Elmer Kidd have purchased a bean threshing machine this year and are still busy with it around the Declo area.

Mr. and Mrs. John Priest, Declo residents, have finished extensive remodeling in their farm home. They especially are enjoying their spacious family room.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Biswell, Buhl, have completed harvesting their crops for this year. The final harvest was completed on Friday when five combines owned by Leslie Jones, Twin Falls, pulled into their clover field and had the threshing done in short time. The Biswells, who have farmed the Rupert Hughes ranch southwest of Buhl on the Clover road since Nov. 17, 1947, are planning to move soon to their ranch southeast of Shoshone.

LaRoy Johnson is the first Richfield hunter to return with a deer this year. Somewhat startled at seeing the mother bear while deer hunting on Soldier Mountain, the young man shot and took no chances. Her cub was up a tree and almost as big as the mother bear. Young Johnson did not get a deer during his weekend hunt and returned to his studies at BYU today.

The Harvey Dieckhaupis, who farm south of Buhl, are busy making preparations for planting their fall wheat crop. They had despite recent freezing temperatures their corn crop was harvested successfully with a good record yield.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gabert and family spent the weekend at the North Hills rounding up their cattle and trailed them to the ranch, east of King Hill. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. George Allen and family of Middleton.

Wayne Berry is now cutting corn for silage at the Wesley ranch, King Hill, to be used for winter feeding of stock.

Le Trail has completed threshing clover seed at the Donald Graham ranch in Pasadena Valley. Trail has commenced threshing clover seed at the Arthur Green ranch, south of King Hill this week.

Cattlemen are starting to round up their cattle in the Dietrich area.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Thomason, Jerome, have purchased the old farm south of Hill City belonging to the Mrs. Iva Thomason estate. The farm has been operated by Mr. and Mrs. Iva Thomason for the last 20 years. The farm has been owned by the Thomasons since 1908. Mrs. Saunders died about a year ago. Mr. and Mrs. Thomason will continue to reside in Jerome until spring before moving on the farm.

Walter Bowman, Dietrich, loaded broilers for the Birdie Packing plant in Twin Falls this week.

Some unusually large potatoes have been raised in the town of Burley by Joe Seward and Joe Piper. Many of their spuds weighed over five pounds and some have gone well over four pounds. Seward raised the largest number of potatoes in the township, and Joe Piper.

Robert Golchocha is the only rancher on the Richfield track raising field potatoes. He has about 12 acres. Digging started this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Barron, Fairfield, have sold their home to Mr. and Mrs. Carol Vanskike. The home has been a home since the Barrons built a new home just north of Fairfield. Vanskikes have resided on a farm on the Soldier creek for many years and will move into their new purchase.

John Chandler, northwest of Wendell, has plowed 17 acres for contract beans, because of the halo blight. The crop was saved by insurance.

Dairy Support Inventory Small
WASHINGTON — Total dairy product inventories under the new support program were down to $137 million by the commodity Credit Corporation. The total price-support loans and inventories of $3.4 billion on that date, the government's dairy support investment was only 2.1 per cent of the total. This is relatively low because dairying comprises about 17 per cent of the nation's agriculture.

LAST OF 1965 CORN PACK is examined by Joseph Feherbacher, Buhl, field manager of the Buhl Green Giant Co. plant. By his estimate, 1,500 acres of the 6,050 acres grown this year were prevented from reaching maturity by the severe frost of mid-September. Canning operations at Buhl ended Sept. 30. (Times-News photo)

One-Fourth of Corn Crop Lost

TWIN FALLS — One-fourth of the 1965 sweet corn crop has been lost in a total loss of at least $150,000, according to Joseph Feherbacher, field manager of the Buhl Green Giant Co. plant. By his estimate, 1,500 of a total of 6,050 acres of corn were prevented from reaching maturity because of the severe frost of mid-September. By Sept. 30 all cannable corn had been processed, and the Buhl plant ceased operations for the year.

"This is the first time in 21 years that we have ever lost corn because of freeze," Feherbacher said. "If the frost had come a week later, we'd have had it all in by now," he continued.

The loss is even more severe "because this was a real good year—one of the best we've ever had," Feherbacher said. He reported that corn was frozen throughout the Northwest.

Feherbacher estimated losses at no less than $100 per acre—larger because losses affect only a few growers, rather than being evenly distributed among all producers.

Last year's corn pack concluded Oct. 13, nearly two weeks later than the current corn pack. Products processed this year include cream style corn, white corn, niblets and mexicorn.

LESS BUTTER

PARIS — Reduced production of milk in France has led to the discouragement by the government of butter exports through a cut in export subsidies, with a resulting reduction of more than half in exports for the first five months of 1965 under a year earlier.

Amalgamated Sugar Processing Starts This Week, Using New Facilities

Harvest of the 1965 sugar beet crop in the Amalgamated Sugar Company's Nampa, Burley-Rupert, and Southeastern Idaho; Cache Valley-Idaho and Oregon districts began this week it was announced today by A. E. Benning, Amalgamated president. Harvest operations in the company's Twin Falls district started last week and will start in the Weber County-Utah area October 11.

The early frost of 10 days ago damaged the beet crop throughout the company's growing areas with heaviest damage in the Burley-Rupert territory. Prior to the frost, an excellent beet crop was in prospect, however the frost no doubt has effected both tonnage yield and sugar content of the crop, Benning said.

The company again will use an IBM card receipt system for the grower's delivery record. Benning said this efficient system, the first of its kind in the industry, was developed by the company last year.

Growers receive for each load delivered an exact copy of the IBM card which is used by the computer in calculating the grower's payment. By this procedure not only is the clerical expense reduced, but also the grower is assured of exact and proper payment with a limited amount of checking, he said.

The Amalgamated will continue its beet pile covering program which has been used the past two years with encouraging results, Benning said.

Benning said that The Amalgamated's multi-million dollar expansion at the Rupert factory has been completed in time for the current harvest. The expanded Rupert plant now has a daily slicing capacity of 7,000 tons per day and is the second largest beet sugar factory in the United States and the third largest in the world.

Growers receive for each load delivered an exact copy of the IBM card which is used by the computer in calculating the grower's payment. By this procedure not only is the clerical expense reduced, but also the grower is assured of exact and proper payment with a limited amount of checking, he said.

The Amalgamated will continue its beet pile covering program which has been used the past two years with encouraging results, Benning said.

1966 Wheat Program Signup To Be Held Next Spring

No fall signup is expected to be held for any 1966 wheat program which may be made available, Carl Boyd, chairman, Twin Falls County, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reported.

Legislation now is under consideration by Congress which would authorize continuation of a voluntary wheat certificate and a feed grain program. If these programs are enacted into law, the intention is to hold concurrent signups for both wheat and feed grains next spring.

While the wheat legislation being considered exempts the 1966 wheat crop from marketing quotas, it does provide for wheat allotments. Allotments therefore have been determined for next year's crop as presently authorized, and notices of official farm wheat allotments for 1966 have been mailed to producers.

Additional program information is dependent upon action by the Congress and will be made available to producers as soon as possible. Any questions about the 1966 wheat allotments should be taken up with the ASC County Committee, as in previous years.

According to the chairman, the official farm wheat allotments for 1966 are lower than for 1965 because the national allotment is smaller. By law, the national acreage allotment is established at an amount which is expected to produce the total quantity of wheat required to meet anticipated needs.

The total wheat needed for 1966 is about the same as was needed for 1965, but the general increase in yields means that the needed quantity can be produced on fewer acres.

Your Fall Work Includes SIMPLOT FERTILIZERS

For many crops, application of Simplot Fertilizers in the Fall can be more effective. The fertilizer becomes well-established in the root zone, ready to go to work early in the Spring.

Fall-seeded crops need fertilization to get off to a good start and existing stands of alfalfa yield better with Fall application of Simplot Phosphate Fertilizers.

Fall fertilization puts you ahead on your farm work for next Spring and boosts yields and increases profits. Better see your Simplot Soilbuilders man today.

WILLIAM HEPPWORTH, Rupert, addresses the Idaho State Convention of the National Farmers Organization held Sept. 30 at the Elks Club in Jerome. Hephworth reported on NFO marketing activities in the Midwest, following his recent trip to the organization's headquarters as a national director from Idaho, a post to which he was reelected at the state meeting. (Times-News photo)

Marketing Activities Emphasized at Annual Idaho NFO Meeting in Jerome

JEROME — The National Farmers Organization is responsible for "an extra $4 for the price we got for hogs and an extra $2 for cattle," according to William Hephworth, Rupert, national director for the Idaho NFO.

Hephworth spoke at the annual meeting of the state organization Sept. 30 at the Elks Club in Jerome.

Hephworth told an estimated 100 delegates to the convention that the shortage of beans this year is going to drive prices higher. He credited the high prices to the limited supply and to early holding actions of the NFO.

But he cautioned, "We can hold these beans too long. We should hold back enough to starve the buyers — enough to keep the prices high."

Reporting on his recent trip to the NFO's national headquarters, he said interest in the organization's activities is high in the Midwest.

"Signing co-ops continuously in the Midwest. We are getting offers up to 50 cents more for processing milk because they are short of milk there."

"These higher prices will be here sooner or later. The playing off of one processor against another is what has done it."

Hephworth estimated if the premium prices received by NFO members on meat alone would add $1.35 billion to the total farm income.

"That is $386 per farm family, whether or not it raises meat," he said.

Ernest Stitt, Paul, state president of the NFO, told the Times-News that "the organization's primary object right now is beans."

Stitt said the local NFO members have been conducting holding actions in Magic Valley for the past two years, and have received premiums of as much as $3.75 per sack. He said the average premium NFO members have received is about $2.

"That is on the profit end of things," he said.

President Stitt estimated that 60 per cent of the bean-seed growers in Magic Valley are affiliated with the NFO. He said that 11 warehouses have already signed master contracts with his organization.

Stitt told the delegates that "politics have no place here, just like religion should not be discussed by us. Politics have not helped the three and one-half million farmers who have gone out of business in the past few years."

According to Stitt, one of new areas the local organization is planning to enter is the marketing of milk. Dr. F. J. Supple, Jerome, supplemented Stitt's remarks in his Dairy Commodity Report given to the delegates.

"I'm not ashamed of milking cows, but I'm ashamed of the price that I'm getting," Dr. Supple said.

He reported that prices as low as $2.70 per hundred pounds of 3.2 per cent butterfat milk are common.

He reported that these prices are sustained by creameries which operate at "less than 40 per cent capacity." He proposed NFO marketing pressures be applied to recalcitrant buyers to provide a better price.

In other buildings conducted at the convention Hephworth was reelected as Idaho's national director, and Richard Howard, Buhl, was elected for a year's term as state NFO president.

Soil Conservation Center Gains Two Staff Members

KIMBERLY — There have been two new additions to the research staff of the USDA Snake River Conservation Research Center here.

Dr. Glen E. Leggett has moved here from Prosser, Wash., to continue his duties as research investigations leader for the northwest area. Dr. Leggett has been stationed for many years at the Irrigation Experiment Station, Prosser, where he has been conducting research on soil micronutrients and particularly on the use of zinc.

At the Snake River Conservation Research Center he will be in charge of the work being conducted by several scientists having to do with plant nutrition and nutrient deficiency. He will also continue his work on zinc, particularly its effect on beans.

Dr. Leggett received his B. S. and M. S. degrees from Utah State University and his Ph. D. degree from Washington State University. He is residing in Twin Falls with his wife Irene and daughter.

The University of Idaho has recently moved a new staff member into the Magic Valley area. He will be stationed at the Snake River Conservation Research Center.

C. E. Brockway is an Assistant Research Professor, University of Idaho and just moved to this area from Denver, Colorado. He is a graduate of the University of Idaho and has a Master's degree in Civil Engineering from California Institute of Technology.

Brockway will be conducting research on seepage measurement and control from irrigation canals and will also do work on canal lining methods.

He is originally from this area, having been reared at Ketchum, and his wife Carol is a native of Idaho. They are residing in a home which they purchased in Twin Falls.

PLANS APPROVED

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The main committee of Parliament has approved Foreign Ministry plans to contribute 10 Austrian officers to serve at U.N. request as cease-fire observers in the India-Pakistan conflict.

Bondurant Cites Need for Better Irrigation Systems

BILLINGS, Mont. — Efficiency of surface irrigation systems can be improved by about 15 per cent if the runoff water is recirculated and reused on additional land, according to James A. Bondurant, Kimberly.

Bondurant spoke at the Western Annual Meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers and American Society of Agricultural Engineers here today. He is a research agricultural engineer at the Snake River Conservation Research Center at Kimberly.

Bondurant said in a paper presented jointly with L. S. Willardson, Logan, that a survey of systems for recirculating runoff water from irrigation in Southern Idaho shows little evidence of system design, which has led to loss of water efficiency. Bondurant said that in furrow-type irrigation systems a choice usually must be made between loss of water through deep percolation and runoff.

Because runoff water can be reused with a well-designed system — it is usually wiser, for the farmer to permit runoff in normal conditions, which can then be recirculated.

Further, runoff water causes no groundwater drainage, salinization or fertilizer wastage problems. Because of these advantages, the report cited an increase in interest in recirculating irrigation systems in recent years.

Whereas runoff in the Rupert area averaged about 18.5 per cent, the optimum use of water can be obtained with a runoff of 30 per cent, under average conditions, with the use of a recirculating system. Water losses can be cut by about 80 per cent in this way.

Among the various types of recirculation systems, caution was urged in the use of cycling sump systems which pump water for short periods of time when the reservoir fills to a certain level. When this water is added in spurts to the initial water supply, the effectiveness of the recirculated water is lost, and, in effect, the water is stored in the furrows at the expense of pumping costs.

In order for cycling sump systems to be effective, the water must be applied to another or additional areas in order to actually make use of it, Bondurant said.

States Own 85 Million Acres Of Rural Land

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department study shows that the 50 states own almost 85 million acres of rural land, exclusive of road rights of way and water areas.

The department's Economic Research Service said the states use about one-third of the acreage for parks, state forests, wildlife reserves, and similar purposes.

Much of the state-owned land is held without being designated for specific uses. Some states lease a large portion of this land for grazing.

ERS said most of the state-owned acreage was acquired through grants from the federal government. Texas owned its land before it acquired statehood. ERS said much of the state-owned land designed for special usage was obtained through tax reversion and purchase.

New Mexico with 10.9 million acres of state owned land leads all states with 9.2 million acres. Alaska owns 6.8 million acres; Montana, 3.6 million acres; Wyoming, 3.6 million acres; and Michigan, 4.3 million acres.

Hot Weather Speeds Idaho Crop Harvest

BOISE (UPI) — The U. S. Agriculture Department said Wednesday continued Indian summer weather had allowed agricultural field activities to make rapid progress in early October.

The conditions held true in all areas except the east, where rain slowed work the first half of the week that ended Oct. 2.

Digging of potatoes was about one-third finished in the southwest. Spring grain harvesting was essentially complete in all areas except some higher elevations.

The third cutting of alfalfa hay was over one-half completed in most of the state. Rapid progress was made in the dry bean harvest, and sugar beet gathering had started earlier than usual due to recent frosts. Frost had caused some damage in eastern Idaho. Field corn was hurt by frost in many areas and failed to mature enough to make first quality feed.

PUMP PROJECT PLANNED

LONDON (AP) — Britain, sharing worldwide worries over future fresh water supplies, plans a $24-million project starting next year to pump well water into the Thames and tributaries.

Valley Conservation Personnel Are Attending Western Engineer Meet

KIMBERLY — Southern Idaho, and particularly the Magic Valley area, are being represented at the annual conference of the American Society of Civil Engineers and American Society of Agricultural Engineers which is being held in Billings, Mont. on October 6-8.

This is an irrigation and drainage specialty conference and is sponsored by the two professional organizations. The theme of the conference is "Development of the Total Watershed" and is for people who are interested in both the technical and nontechnical phases of water conservation and utilization.

This is a National conference and there will be participants from throughout the Nation in attendance.

Voting Data Announced By ASC Group

SHOSHONE — Designation and boundaries of communities within the county for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee election are announced by Eugene Alexander, committee chairman.

Elections will be by mail. Deadline when ballots must be postmarked or personally delivered by voters to the place designated by the county committee is Nov. 5.

Boundaries of each community include, Richfield, those persons served or who own property served by the Richfield postoffice; Shoshone community, all those persons served by the Shoshone postoffice and persons served or who own property served by Route 1, Gooding, within the confines of Lincoln County, Route 1, Jerome, within the confines of Lincoln County and Star Route, Richfield.

Dietrich community includes those persons served or who own property served by Route 1, Paul, within the confines of Lincoln County.

The chairman explained that petitions signed by six or more eligible voters nominating persons for membership on the community committee will be received at the ASCS office anytime before Oct. 15.

The names of persons so nominated will be included in the state of nominees if they are willing and eligible to serve.

The elections will choose three community committeemen and two alternates. The chairman, vice chairman, and regular member of the elected ASC committee also will serve as delegates to the county convention to be held soon, where the 49th county committee will be chosen.

a paper entitled "Design, Operation and Programming of the Snake River Conservation Research Center." Robinson is chairman of an ASCS Research Committee and will preside at a two-day meeting of this committee which is to be held during the same period.

Also attending the meeting are Dr. M. E. Jensen, Research Agricultural Engineer, SRRC, and Mr. Charles E. Bracken, who is a research engineer at the University of Idaho, presently stationed in the Magic Valley area.

Others participating in the program include D. C. Lange, Extension Irrigator, University of Idaho, Boise, will talk on "Improved Irrigation Efficiency Through Water Management."

John Walker, with the Conservation Service, Boise, who was formerly located at Twin Falls, will also speak on the subject "Public Law 480, its Effect on Watershed Development."

It is anticipated that more than 200 engineers and scientists are attending the conference. A trip will be made to Twin Falls which is, currently under construction on the Horn river in Montana.

The operation of Cameron Sales, Inc., your IHC dealer at Rupert, Idaho, is dedicated to the service of our valued customers. From us our customers are entitled to and shall receive two things: Fine products and the service to assure their maximum performance. Our ability to fulfill this obligation to our customers rests primarily upon our earning a reasonable profit in the conduct of our business. A profit makes it possible for us to expand, grow and to serve our customers better. Without it, this dealership like any other business enterprise, cannot exist.

We realize that you, too, Mr. Farmer, have the same responsibility toward your business of farming. You also need to show a profit, that you, too, may grow, expand and be in a position to purchase from time to time the needed machines with which to enhance your farm operation.

As we strive earnestly to meet our customers' needs, we shall try to do so profitably, both for our customers and for ourselves, and in full awareness of the real meaning of honesty and fairness to all.

For your direct and immediate benefit we wish to announce that as of this date our parts department personnel are authorized to extend to all of our customers, a classified trade discount on all replacement parts items that are identified as C.T. items in the parts catalog-price books as published by International Harvester Co. and currently being used by this dealership.

This simply means that on many, many parts replacement items in the line, which you are in need of each season, you will buy at a discount ranging from 25 per cent to 50 per cent. As an example, a piston and sleeve set complete for Farmall M tractor currently lists at $95.84. The C.T. or discount price of this item is $71.88. You effect a saving of $23.96, a full 25 per cent of the list price.

Many items affected under this program, such as bearings for trucks, tractors and other machines, carry a consumer discount of 45 to 50 per cent, as an example, bearing No. ST-516, list price of which is $4.78, nets to you at $2.63, a discount of 45 per cent, a saving of $2.15.

We propose to continue as rapidly as possible a program instituted over a year ago, to establish and maintain a constant inventory level of fast moving IHC replacement parts, not "will fit," but genuine parts to adequately serve the needs of our good customers.

Our parts department supervisor, Mr. Leonard Sheets, and his assistant, Phil Perotto, are dedicated to this program and have the full support of management, that we might better serve our trade in a successful, profitable manner for all concerned. We invite you to check our prices, giving us an opportunity to serve your needs, shop our self service tables, guarantee yourself quality with genuine IHC parts, as you save money under this program.

Robinson Addresses Meet Of Western Farm Engineers

A. R. ROBINSON

BILLINGS, Mont.—A. R. Robinson, Twin Falls, director of the Snake River Conservation Research Center, Kimberly, said today the installation "represents a new trend in agricultural research by locating scientists from many disciplines and with varied experience together for a concerted effort in solving agricultural soil and water problems."

Robinson spoke at the Western Annual Meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers and American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Robinson said "future requirements for food to support increasing population demand scientific approach to soil and water technology similar to that existing in medical research, space travel and atomic energy."

He reported the Kimberly center is now nearing its full research personnel strength of 50. Each professional research has at least one research assistant.

Among the programs Robinson outlined are projects to control evaporation, design of irrigation systems and water conveyance research. Additional projects include water use and plant growth research, soil microbiology studies, and studies of moisture and heat flow.

According to Robinson, the center's studies concentrate on the problems that afflict the upper Snake River Plain. By locating the facilities in the heart of Magic Valley, the scientists can supplement controlled laboratory conditions with experiments in the field and studies of methods used in the area.

The benefits of such study is most important to the immediate area, but it has general benefits that extend beyond the Magic Valley.

Funds were first allocated for the establishment of the center in 1960. Construction began in 1962 and was completed a year later, Robinson said. By July 1965 staffing was over three-fourths completed, he said.

The research center was built and will be operated and maintained by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Research Service, Soil and Water Conservation Research Division. It cooperates with the University of Idaho on many of its projects.

Betsy's Victims Get USDA Food

WASHINGTON — A mid-September roundup of aid to victims of Hurricane Betsy in Louisiana showed 175,000 having received USDA-donated food, but the full extent of crop losses to Gulf coast states has not yet been determined, the Department of Agriculture added.

The massive feeding operation is drawing heavily on supplies of butter, cheese, canned meats, rice, peanut butter, beans, flour and lard, and is expected to continue for weeks in some areas, disaster-relief officials said.

Farmers Home Administration, meanwhile, shifted additional personnel into the storm-struck areas and opened temporary field offices to assist the 12 permanent offices serving the 50 designated areas, with top priority to be given emergency loan assistance.

NEW RED BARN IS LANDMARK for Springfield community. The barn, trimmed in white and surrounded by a white fence, is on the ranch of Noel Rownt, Springfield. The barn houses hay and straw storage space, a tack room, and a central driveway for equipment storage. The structure is located near Highway 20. (Times-News photo)

Red Barn Is Springfield Landmark

SPRINGDALE—The little red barn with white trim apparently has gone the way of the buggy whip. The few remaining reminders of a bygone era are usually run down and about to be supplanted by steel structures.

There is occasionally a revival of the old style, but often as not it is unsuited to the modern needs of the traditional owner. But rare indeed is the revival of the old that is adaptable to the needs of modern, mechanized farming that at the same time preserves the charm of the "little red barn."

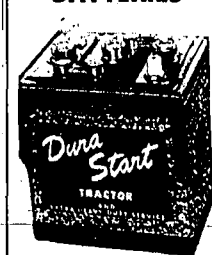

One successful revival of the red barn trimmed in white is being achieved in Springfield. The recently completed barn is situated on the Noel Rownt ranch located on Highway 20.

The striking barn is used as shelter for the Rownt quarter horses. Within the structure there is a storage space for 20 tons of hay and straw, a tack room for saddles, bridles and grain, and a driveway through the barn with equipment storage space.

Speedy Flow of Farm Knowledge Sought at Meet

ins from 36 Free World nations are working this week on efforts to speed up the flow of knowledge about agricultural progress.

The goal set by the library experts is a system of international libraries. That goal is under discussion in the third World Congress of Agricultural Librarians. The first business session of the week-long meeting was held in Washington Monday.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman told the meeting the world's stock of technical and scientific information on agriculture is growing rapidly.

But he said it must be mobilized if it's to be used effectively. "The world cannot replace time and energy which is lost when the knowledge from one discovery that could advance the welfare of all people fails to reach all those who could use it," Freeman said.

Three FFA Judging Teams To Attend National Meet

BOISE (AP) — Three state Future Farmers of America judging teams will represent Idaho in national FFA judging contests to be held in conjunction with the organization's 38th annual convention scheduled for Oct. 13-14 at Kansas City, Mo. A team from Weiser will be entered in the meat judging contest and groups from Ashton and Montpelier will be entered in the poultry and livestock competitions. In addition to the competition teams, Idaho will be represented at the convention by more than 80 FFA youths.

The delegation will be led by Jack Torrey, Kuna, state president, and Lyle Fuller, Twin Falls, state vice president.

Agent Says Danger Slight In Feeding Frozen Corn

In response to many inquiries, Donald Youtz, Twin Falls county extension agent, reported that feeding frozen corn to livestock entailed danger, however slight, of nitrate poisoning.

Youtz said that nitrate toxicity is not used, and cases of actual losses are rare. However, there have been two cases reported recently to the agent.

One of the instances resulted in death to two feeder cattle, and the other resulted in abortion with a dairy cow. Subsequent laboratory tests of the silage fed showed a high nitrate level.

"Although such cases are rare in this area," Youtz said, "if trouble is suspected feeding of the silage should be delayed for a month or more."

The nitrogenous wastes given off in the silage-making process would reduce the nitrate levels, he said. However, the safest insurance is to have a nitrate test conducted on the suspected frozen corn.

Youtz said there is a commercial laboratory in Boise that conducts the necessary test. Another possible test is to feed the suspected silage to one or two low-quality animals and stoically observe the results.

The agent said that high-nitrate roughage feeds can be diluted with low-nitrate feeds to make the mixture useable. However, he reported that a number of farmers are feeding freshly chopped corn with no trouble. Others are grazing cattle on standing corn stover with no adverse results.

QUARANTINE REMOVED

WASHINGTON — Sweden and the Fiji Islands were added to the foot-and-mouth disease free list, September 23, by the Department of Agriculture. An amended regulation would allow importation of cloven-hoofed animals from the two countries and would remove restrictions on certain other products such as hay and straw.

Farmer Union Head Seeks Revisions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The head of the National Farmers Union said Friday that one of the government's major conservation programs should be revised to give more help to low-income farmers.

James G. Patton made that recommendation in a statement issued in Washington. His proposal is aimed at the Agricultural Conservation Payment program ACP.

Under this program, the government pays part of the cost of approved conservation practices carried out by farmers.

Patton said the program now often helps big farms and bypasses the small, low-income farmer. He urged that it be changed to give low-income farmers a bigger share of the total ACP fund, and larger payments on specific conservation practices.

He said there should be a family farm-size limit on payments to larger farms.

Collegians Are Given Farm Jobs

WASHINGTON — As the number of college-age persons increases, and the proportion of this age group attending college rises, there remains the problem of the capable student who drops out or cannot enter because of lack of financial support. According to a Department of Labor report, the department has instituted successful programs for employment of lower-income collegians.

The Bureau of Employment Security's Farm Labor Service initiated in 1964 a program to place college students in farm jobs during the summer. From slightly more than a hundred placed in 1964, the number has increased to more than 5,000 in 1965.

Participating colleges were chosen on the basis of the proportion of economically deprived students they contained, the proportion of students from a rural background and the willingness of the students to participate in the program.

The colleges chosen by these criteria tended to be negro institutions, but a significant number of white colleges were included.

Employers who expressed an interest in student workers were carefully screened to be sure that they could offer acceptable working conditions. All housing was state inspected. If the worker completed his contract term, the employed paid for his transportation to and from the job's location.

According to the Labor Department's report, there had been widespread expressions of satisfaction with the program. Eighty-six per cent of the students fulfilled their contracts, and the number of inquiries from prospective employers was increasing—both attesting to the success of the program, the report concluded.

Scientists Are Honored for Fabric Process

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Agricultural Department scientists were honored in Washington Wednesday for their development of a flame-resisting treatment for cotton fabrics.

The 1965 John Scott Award, for inventions benefiting mankind, will go to Dr. John D. Guthrie and Wilson A. Reeves of the Agriculture Department's Southern utilization research and development division in New Orleans.

Guthrie and Reeves developed a process for treating cotton fabrics with a chemical called THCP. Most flame-resistant textiles now produced in this country and Europe are treated by processes based on their work.

Each of the two men honored this year will receive a medal and $1,000 in cash.

Two Twin Falls youths have been chosen to attend the National Future Farmers of America Convention to be held in Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 10-17. They will accept the National Silver Emblem Award to be presented to the Twin Falls Chapter, it was announced by John Lawrence, Twin Falls, FFA chapter adviser.

The youths are David Coffett and David Sommer, both Twin Falls. They are both juniors at the high school, where Coffett is FFA chapter reporter and Sommer is chapter secretary.

The youths will travel by train as a part of the 80-person Idaho contingent to the convention. Their chapter is, however, the only one in the state to receive a national award.

September Price Index Shows Four-Point Decline

BOISE (UPI)—Idaho farmers received less money for their products during September than they did during October, the U.S. Agriculture Department reported Tuesday.

The Sept. 15 index of prices declined four points, the all-crops index dropped two points and the livestock and livestock products index declined six points from mid-August.

Meantime, the index of prices paid by Idaho farmers for feed remained unchanged during the month ending Sept. 15.

When compared with a year earlier, however, the prices paid for feed index showed a one point increase.

Bad Shelling Raises Corn Drying Costs

AMES, Iowa—The high cost of drying corn can be reduced only when present mechanical corn shelling equipment is improved, two agricultural engineers advise.

"The action of present-day corn shelling equipment is quite severe," said Robert A. Saul and James L. Stecher of the USDA's Agricultural Research Service. "Dry corn can withstand this treatment with very little damage."

Wet corn sustains considerable damage, however, when it is shelled either with shelling attachments on corn pickers or by the damage caused by shelling corn at high moisture may not affect the market grade of the corn nor is the food value of the corn immediately affected; however, there is evidence that the storability of corn shelled at high moisture is affected.

When hand-shelled and field-shelled corn at a moisture content of 29 per cent is held at a temperature no higher than 85 degrees F., the loss of the hand-shelled corn with about two per cent damage can be held for about 740 hours before it must be dried.

Field-shelled corn under the same conditions should be dried within 215 hours, the Iowa researchers agricultural engineers said.

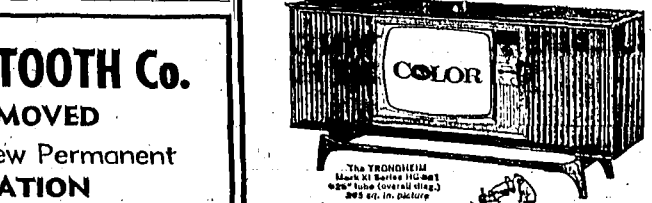

"With corn having no more damage than hand-shelled corn, an 18-foot diameter bin could be loaded 15 feet deep and dried with a five horsepower fan," they observed.

"With corn having the mechanical damage associated with today's field-shellers, the practical method for the use of the storage bin as a drier is to dry in layers of four or five foot depth."

"If a bin can be loaded to the top with wet corn and safely dried, then the drying process is no longer a possible bottleneck to the total harvest picture. This will be practical and economical when harvesters are designed and operated to avoid mechanical damage."

Food Stamp Program May Feed Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department reports its growing food stamp program helped feed nearly 633,000 needy Americans at its peak last year ending June 30. The program is still expanding, department officials have said they hope to cover a total of about 1 million people by the end of the current fiscal year.

For the 1964-65 year, the program operated in 110 localities in 20 states.

Needy consumers, enrolled in the program, paid about $53 million of their own money to buy food stamps. With those stamps, the families in the program got $32 million worth of free food stamps donated by the government.

The stamps can be used like cash to buy food at retail stores cooperating in the program. In effect, government power of food stamp uses $85 million, or about 61 per

Freeman Bids Farmers Use Market Pools

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman believes farmers will get more bargaining power in the marketplace by joining the non-farm population.

Freeman's comment came in a speech opening the department's observance of "Cooperating Month."

Freeman said that without the power farmers have in the marketplace, the price support programs would be ineffective.

He said the skills of the farmer have already been the world's greatest eye for food and fiber production.

"The time is here for farmers to put the same quality of skills into the marketing phase of the food economy," the secretary added.

Japan May Serve as Soybean Mart

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Joseph P. Doherty, former U.S. Agricultural attaché in Japan, believes that American soybean growers have a big stake in efforts to persuade Japanese consumers to use soybean oil.

The steady increase in sales of U.S. soybeans to Japan has been among the items contributing to the rapid growth of the trade as a major income producer for farmers.

Japanese imports of American soybeans this year are expected to be up to, or above, last year's total of about 45 million bushels.

Meet Planned

IDAHO FALLS — The second annual Idaho Potato conference will be held at the Idaho Falls Hotel, February 10 and 11, 1966, Edd Moore, Idaho Falls, conference chairman, announced.

Moore is executive secretary of the Idaho Grower-Shippers Association. He said the meeting for all segments of the industry will be similar to the conference in 1965.

John B. Shaw, Burley, representing the Potato Processors of Idaho Association, is program chairman.

Milk Production Record Broken

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — The 12-month production record for senior three-year-old Registered Holsteins on official test has been raised 40 pounds by a Pennsylvania cow.

The new class leader is Mowry's Steiner Esther 5238863 (GP), owned by Mowry Farms of Roaring Spring, Pennsylvania. She breaks a previously established record that has lasted for four years.

Starting her lactation at three years, six months of age, "Esther" milked twice daily for 365 days to produce 30,867 lbs. of milk and 1,136 lbs. of butterfat. Her average test was 3.7% of butterfat.

Once-Dilapidated Shoshone Sale Ring Successful Under New Management

SHOSHONE — The Shoshone Sales Yard auction ring had proven to be a financial failure under the management of several operators, but Orville Harris, Shoshone, saw possibilities for its rejuvenation.

After purchasing the dilapidated, abandoned ring for only $5,000, he built up an organization which now handles over $3 million in sales a year.

Harris had long dreamed of owning his own stock yard, and to this end he sold his Nampa home and began to seek out a promising stockyard investment. An old friend had heard of the abandoned Shoshone sale ring, and the two entered into a partnership without having seen the ring itself.

So dilapidated was the facility that Harris' first partner asked to withdraw from the agreement, leaving Harris as the sole investor.

In order to upgrade the yard, Harris first built a feed lot to accommodate 1,500 head of stock and purchased a heavier set of scales. The sales pen was enlarged and heating equipment and an air-conditioner were installed. The high-dome roof was insulated and new lights installed which focused on the pen, and screened to protect buyers' eyes.

A modern auction box was situated to permit a clear view of all sales activities.

Because of forfeited payments, the fledgling yard could hire no help, and its operation soon became a family affair: the children handled the janitorial work, Mrs. Harris managed the books and Harris supervised sales, solicited, and made contacts at other yards.

After six years of operation, the yard became undermanned when Harris underwent an eye operation. His brother, William, at first a skeptic who depreciated the initial investment, agreed to buy into the corporation.

Today, with 32 employees and over $3 million sales, Harris considers his yard a success. "Considering the relatively sparsely settled territory we service, this growth has exceeded all my expectations," he said. "Recently a third owner has

Idaho Red Meat Production Is Said Above Last Year's

BOISE (UPI)—Red meat production by Idaho's commercial slaughter plants during August was estimated by the U.S. Agriculture Department Tuesday at 15,528,000 pounds.

At this figure, production was six per cent above July of this year and five per cent above August of last year.

This accumulative production of red meat for January through August 1965 amounted to 115,576,000 pounds of three per cent above the same period a year ago.

Three-Tenths Of Jobs Are Farm-Related

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Department of Agriculture released the results of a survey which show the farmer's off-farm income is dropping.

The department said three out of every 10 jobs in private employment are related to agriculture.

This employment involves persons in farming; those who have jobs storing, transporting, processing and merchandising the products of agriculture; meat processing; all forms of employment related to dairying; banking; processing of fruits and vegetables; and cotton fabric industries.

The department also listed these statistics:

—One hour of farm labor produces more than five times as much food and other goods as it did in 1919-21; crop production is 70 per cent higher per acre; output per breeding animal has doubled.

—Productivity of the American farm worker since the 1950's has increased by 7.7 per cent a year.

—Output per man-hour in non-agricultural industry has increased by 2.3 per cent a year.

—One farm worker produces four times as much food, fiber, and other farm commodities for himself and 32 others.

The department said that the farmer is a pretty good taxpayer, too. In 1964, farm real estate taxes totaled $1.3 billion. Tax on personal property on farms was about one-third of a billion dollars; federal and states income taxes paid by the farm population totaled $1.2 billion; net taxes paid by farmers on motor fuels were $320 million.

BILLINGS, Mont. — The development of land under sprinkler irrigation in the Snake River Plain is "truly big business," Rex Greer and Claude H. Pair, Twin Falls, told the delegates attending the Western Annual Conference of the American Society of Civil and Agricultural Engineers today.

The paper, read to the assembly, discussed "Sprinkler Irrigation Development on the Snake River Plain."

According to Greer and Pair, there were fewer than 1,000 acres irrigated in this area by sprinkler systems in 1949.

By 1959, 215,000 acres, or 8.4 per cent of the land in Idaho was sprinkler irrigated, and the acreage was estimated in 1964 to have increased to 352,000 acres or 12.6 per cent.

Greer and Pair said that the current trend in sprinkler development is toward "the developing of blocks of land, 2,000 acres or more in size, by individuals or groups of individuals using community-type sprinkler irrigation systems."

The paper noted that problems seem to arise in these huge schemes "in direct ratio to the number of farm operators in the development, as individual and group scheduling of water come into conflict."

The report said that the sprinkler type of irrigation system is designed for large-scale operations "with the planning, planting and harvesting, the maintenance of long continuous runs are important."

The majority of the new developments are taking place between Twin Falls and downriver to the border of the state. Pumping water from the river to this land results in capital investments as high as $500 per acre before the first crop is harvested.

Initial costs, of as much as $1 per acre foot per hundred feet of lift, and the increasing complexity of the farming operations demand that large multiple holdings that management control be maximized.

A possible future development suited for sprinkler systems mentioned by Greer and Pair is the Guffy program, under which the Bureau of Reclamation has approximately 130,000 acres of land withdrawn from the public domain that is scheduled to be developed.

Flower Care Is Advised After Frosts

Frosty nights give notice that it is time to take care of certain flowering plants so they will bloom again next season, according to Donald Youtz, Twin Falls extension agent.

When tops of dahlias have been killed by frost, Youtz said, cut the tops down to about six inches from the ground. Then lift, being careful not to injure roots by breaking from the crown. Remove as much soil as possible with a stick and let the roots dry thoroughly.

Store in a cool but frost-free place. Ideal temperature is 45 degrees. If atmosphere in the storage is too dry, clumps should be placed in boxes in peat moss, vermiculite or sand, or wrapped in newspapers to prevent shriveling.

The packing material should be dry at the beginning as it will absorb moisture from the clumps and reduce dryness at the end of the storage period.

After plants are frosted, dig the entire plant, advises Tony Horn, horticulturist of the University of Idaho extension service. Dry the plant in a cool, well-ventilated place. Then cut off the stems; separate new and old canes. Clean and burn eyes and corns. Store in a frost-free cellar.

The procedure is much the same for cannas. Dig the roots and let them dry in the sun a few hours. Then put them in a dry, frost-free cellar or in plastic boxes where air circulates freely. A cellar suitable for potatoes is a favorable place to keep cannas.

Labor Department Programs Assist Worker Recruitment

WASHINGTON — The termination of Public Law 78, and the resultant elimination of Mexican labor in the United States led to the development of Department of Labor programs to recruit laborers within the country, according to a report issued by the department.

The programs had the dual aim of helping farmers develop new sources of labor, and to try to make farm jobs available to those members of the labor force who most needed work, particularly young people and underprivileged minority groups.

The report said that a number of Federal-State mobile recruitment teams were organized. Teams operating in California were credited with having contributed in the full utilization of California and Arizona's farm work force during the winter and early spring.

Additional teams are being established in New England states for the apple harvest.

In addition, larger interstate "task forces" have been established, particularly in the South, to undertake a massive recruiting program. Particular attention also has been paid to the recruitment of such groups as Indians, Puerto Ricans, underemployed farmers, and teenage workers.

Most important among the programs is the youth recruitment program established in early spring and summer.

Three special youth recruitment programs were conducted in 1965: the "A-Team" program was designed for male high school sophomores, juniors and seniors; the college summer recruitment program was for college students aged 18 to 20; and "Project Growth" was set up for young men aged 17 to 21 who were not in school and unemployed.

The workers, according to the report, were placed in groups, under a supervisor, on farms which were usually beyond commuting distance of their homes. By mid-August, about 2,000 A-Team had been placed on farms, and about 1,000 youths had been involved with "Project Growth."

Nearly 5,000 college students had been placed by mid-summer. In addition to the three programs, agriculture placements of workers under 22 years of age were reported at 748,000, mostly within commuting distance from their homes.

State Milk Production Is Below Five-Year Average

BOISE (UPI) — Total milk production in Idaho during August was estimated Tuesday at 129 million pounds by the U.S. Agriculture Department.

This compares with 131 million a year ago and the 141 million pound five-year average for August.

Production declined seven per cent this year from July to August.

Output of all manufactured dairy products during August was below the production for the same month a year earlier.

Idaho dairymen received an average of 88 cents per pound of milkfat in milk used for American cheese during August, three cents more than a year earlier.

The average price of milk was $2.08 per hundredweight, up one cent from July, but down 89 cents from August 1964. Idaho dairy farmers received 89 cents per pound of milkfat, compared with 81 cents a year ago. The price of a pound of butter during August averaged $3.23 per hundredweight, up seven cents from July.

Max Hanson Cites Farm Credit Needs

ASHTON—Max Hanson, state director of the Farmers Home Administration, told delegates of the Eastern Idaho Convention of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation agitators that "farmers need time to get the tasks done and time to pay their bills. Long term credit is necessary. Short term credit at high interest rates is killing them."

Hanson said that family size farms do not have access to unlimited credit and markets.

"They need help," he said. "Consider the fact Idahoans have paid $20 million in interest since the 1930's for the $185 million of government credit on farms."

Hanson said that allegations that small and medium size farmers are beyond redemption is "mere dogma and propaganda."

Rezoning Is Requested by Rupert VFW

RUPERT—Immediate action on rezoning the VFW Army Building and property on D Street for commercial district was asked during the Rupert City Council meeting Tuesday evening.

Robert Ballou, Twin Falls, representing the VFW, pointed out that it would be feasible to house light industry there and that this type of industry would not depreciate property values in the area.

He emphasized that access roads and the lack of a nearby railroad would discourage a heavy type industry from locating in the area. The council tabled the matter for further study and discussion and the matter will again be aired Oct. 19, during the regular council meeting.

A request for rezoning the property last year was denied by the city council following a protest meeting by a group of residents in the area.

Elmer Schenk, city electrician, presented a voluntary agreement prepared by General Electric Corp. for the return of a portion of profits made on purchases made by the city from General Electric in the amount of $850.

Members of the council authorized Mayor Wendell Johnson to execute the agreement.

Bill Schoen, representing the Rupert City Basketball League, appeared before the council to protest the $2 gymnasium fee set by the city council recently, and to ask the council to sponsor the team. The request was denied.

A letter was read from the Bonneville Power Corp. asking for a letter authorizing installation of regulators purchased recently by the city of Rupert. BPA will install the regulators and pay a percentage of the cost of installation.

Charles Croason, attorney for the city, asked for 60 days additional sick leave for Ed Strubbs and No. 34, 62.7, and No. 25, 64.4, owned by A. J. Johnson and Sons.

The Monday night DHA meeting was held at the home of Norman Rogers, Dee Wolverton is Richfield unit president.

Unused Beet Tops Are Good Supply of Quality Feed

Idaho has nearly 2.5 million tons of sugar beet tops available for livestock feed which can add significantly to the income of the state's livestock producers, Donald Youtz, Twin Falls county extension agent, reports.

According to Youtz, the beet is such an efficient crop that if only its byproducts, including pulp, are fed to cattle, they will exceed the feeding value of an acre of alfalfa or an acre of grain produced under the same conditions.

On the average, a 20-ton crop of beets will supply about 14 tons of tops per acre. This will provide an average of 2 1/2 tons of dry matter, including 500 pounds of protein. Included in a balanced ration, this will produce more than 325 pounds of beef or lamb, Youtz continued.

In tests it has been shown that field-cured beet tops have about 72 per cent of the value of alfalfa hay. Dehydrated beet leaves and dehydrated beet tops were worth 15 per cent and eight per cent more respectively on a total digestible nutrient basis than alfalfa.

According to Youtz, beet tops should be cut no sooner than a week before beet root harvest. The sugar content of the root declines after the top has been cut, on an average of eight-tenths per cent per week after top cutting.

The agent warned that beet tops are a highly laxative feed if used as the only source of roughage. They should, therefore, be fed with another dry roughage or with grain. Cattle pasturing beet tops should have access to dry pasture or be fed straw.

A further caution was issued. Beets treated with chlorinated hydrocarbons must not be fed to livestock which are going to slaughter. These insecticides include benzene, hexachloride, endosulfan, toxaphene and aldrin, Youtz said.

USDA Uses Restaurant to Introduce American Beef

WASHINGTON (UPI)—From Oct. 30 through Nov. 16, the Agriculture Department will be selling sirloin steak dinners at a "steakhouse U.S.A." restaurant at a fair in Brussels, Belgium.

The steakhouse, operated in cooperation with the American Meat Institute, is part of a continuing campaign to promote sales of U.S. beef in Europe.

Agriculture Department marketing experts believe current prospects for beef sales to Europe are limited. Supplies on the Continent are short, but Europeans generally prefer a leaner type of beef than most Americans eat.

The government specialists believe the best hope for building an American beef market in Europe lies in getting European-style grain-fed steaks and roasts.

At first, the specialists believe, this will involve promoting American beef in a luxury market.

On Capitol Hill, meanwhile, Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., said Friday that steamship companies plan to keep ocean freight charges low on shipments of American beef to Europe.

Last February and March, American ship lines cut rates on these shipments about 25 per cent. The reduction was due to expire Thursday, Sept. 30.

But Sparkman, in a speech prepared for Senate delivery, said he has been informed the rates will remain at the reduced level for several months. Later, they will be increased by about 2.7 per cent.

ASCS Group Nominations Are Being Accepted Now

States of nominees for membership on (Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service) community committees soon will be established at the ASCS County office. According to the Twin Falls ASCS Committee, a special effort is being made to encourage the greatest possible participation of eligible voters in the election.

Any local resident who is eligible to take part in an ASCS farm program may vote and may hold office as a committee member regardless of race, color, creed, or national origin. Carl Boyd, chairman of the Twin Falls County committee, said that farmers who are eligible to vote in the committee elections also have the right to nominate as candidates for committee membership any farmer who is eligible and willing to serve.

Growers Urge Extension of Rail Rates

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho State Wheat Growers Association urged extension of a railroad freight rate reduction which now applies to only a part of southern Idaho.

The Association's executive board said the reductions granted "failed to accomplish the desired goal of making Idaho feed wheat more available to Idaho cattle feeders."

Harold West, Idaho Wheat Commission administrator, said the feedlot industry in Southwestern Idaho needs wheat for fattening cattle.

"The best supply of such wheat," he said, "is in Fremont County in Eastern Idaho, where thousands of acres of wheat are unharvested because of early snow and will be good only for livestock feed."

"Extension of rail rate reductions on feed grains throughout Southern Idaho would give the wheat grower a better price for his crop and would make Idaho feed grains more available to cattle feeders in southwestern Idaho."

Robert Henry, administrator of the Idaho Transportation Council, said lower rates were approved for shipments from the Magic Valley area as far west as Caldwell.

"Failure to relate rates from other Southern Idaho points to the reduced rates from Magic Valley," he said, "has resulted in disruption of normal grain merchandising relationships."

BEEF FOR SCHOOLS

WASHINGTON—School lunch purchases of almost 10 million pounds of canned beef in natural juices and more than 4 million pounds of frozen ground beef were announced in September by the Department of Agriculture. Total frozen beef purchases to mid-September represented 10 servings per child for all those in the program, and canned beef three servings per child.
